

S. REPORTS 3,473,461 JOBS LOST IN YEAR

Industries Have Slowed
Up One-Third.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.
American industries on Jan. 1 employed 3,473,461 fewer workers than on the same date a year ago, so the United States department of labor announced last night. The figures were based upon a nationwide survey of employment conditions made by a committee of experts between Dec. 15, 1920, and Jan. 15, 1921.

The figures represent a reduction of 33 per cent in employment. In other words, the industrial plant at 64.5 per cent of its normal capacity. This is a sharp drop from the "two-thirds" estimate which experts have been making for some weeks.

Director John B. Densmore explains that the 3,473,461 figure does not necessarily denote the actual number of jobs lost in industry, as some may have been absorbed in pursuits not covered by the inquiry. Other officials pointed out, too, that the "army of the unemployed" is greater than the number given as having been laid off. The survey says comparative information from thirty-five states and the district of Columbia shows that a year ago the number employed in industry was 3,473,461. On Jan. 1 this year it was 2,124,000, a reduction of 3,349,461. In addition, unemployment in the thirteen states ran the total to 3,473,461.

Michigan Hardest Hit.
Michigan is shown to be the hardest hit. The working force in its plants is down 37 per cent from one year ago. Of the other big industrial states, Illinois and Ohio come next, with a cut of 35 per cent. Illinois is fourth, 44 per cent below a year ago.

By industrial groups, the largest percentage of reduction in employment occurred in automobile and accessories, which indicated a 40 per cent drop in employment. This year a year ago employed about 1,000,000. Next comes the building industry, with a reduction of 52 per cent. Twelve months ago these crafts employed about 11 per cent of all workers in industry. Next comes the clothing, house and furniture industries, with a curtail of 35 per cent employment; leather, boots and shoes, with a 35 per cent reduction; rubber, furniture, boxes, and wood products, 31 per cent below last year. The survey also shows a 30 per cent drop in the production of cement, 19 per cent in packing and food products, 17 per cent below last January.

Jobless by Cities.
The cities in which the estimate of unemployment in industry was placed in 1920, 1921. Numerically New York was the largest volume of unemployment. It was placed at 234,243. Detroit had a reduction in working force of 300,000. Chicago's number of jobs in industry was given as 80,000. The Indiana district had 26,000. Cleveland had 10,000 fewer men in the shops. Philadelphia, 70,000; Baltimore, 39,500. By industrial groups the fall in employment is given:

No. unemployed
Auto and products 873,094
Building trades 550,250
House and food products 210,480
Textile and kindred lines 643,510
Clothing and products 143,278

INDUSTRY CRISIS SAFELY PASSED, ECONOMIST SAYS

New York, Jan. 25.—(Special.)—The danger point in industrial depression has been safely passed and conditions may be expected to improve from now on, George E. Roberts, vice president of the National City bank and noted economist, asserted today.
"Hardly look for a full state of employment and general prosperity until the industrial situation is more generally balanced," he said. "Many retail prices have not come down to conform with wholesale prices, and the depression is entirely effaced will be in just the ratio that every one realizes the necessity of getting prices down to a common level."
"As regards wage earners, their contention that they will not accept reduction in prices of their labor until the cost of living comes down simply amounts to clinging to a fallacy. It is the commodities in which the cost of labor is a large factor that are holding up the general decline."

Shoe Industry Sprints.
Boston, Mass., Jan. 25.—Some increase in production in the shoe industry was noted in reports from factory centers in eastern Massachusetts today. Virtually all the large shops in Haverhill have begun work. Improvement in the women's shoe business in Lynn has advanced to the point where nearly every one of the factories is in operation wholly or in part.

LESS MEAT MORE WHEAT

Meat three times a day means clogged liver, overtaxed kidneys and a long train of ailments that come from an excess of uric acid. Eat more Shredded Wheat Biscuit, the real body-building whole wheat food. We didn't advance the price enough to cover the high cost of all materials—so we can't come down. Considering its nutritive value, Shredded Wheat is the cheapest food in the world today.

$100,000 JEWEL MURDER TO OPEN GRAVE 4TH TIME

New Probe of Weird Case
at Madison, Wis.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 25.—A fourth exhumation of the body of Richard S. Lawrence, the South Madison jeweler and jewel connoisseur, who is believed to have been mysteriously slain nearly three years ago, probably will result from the new investigation which has been started in Dane county by District Attorney Theodore G. Lewis. The fact that the prosecutor is engaged in an attempt to solve the baffling enigma was revealed yesterday.

District Attorney Lewis came into office Jan. 1 of this year. His preliminary inquiry into the old mystery of Lawrence's death and the disappearance of his famous collection of jewels, including the "Orange diamond," valued at $100,000, already has placed three men under suspicion, he said tonight. No legal action has yet been taken, however.

Three times the body has been taken from its resting place. The last exhumation occurred last July, when the state tried to unravel the mystery at the request of the widow, Mrs. Rachael Lawrence.

Story of Disappearance.
Lawrence disappeared from his cottage on the shores of Lake Monona on the night of March 21, 1917, after he had been fondling his precious jewels. He carried his treasures in his pockets. According to his wife, he had been in the habit of sorting the jewels into portions, as he intended dividing them among his children. That night he announced he would include in his will his step-daughter, Louise Vale, a motion picture actress. He had been to Madison the day before and had been seen by a neighbor. That night a man's body was found mangled on the railway tracks. This body was buried as that of Lawrence. Later the grave was opened and state officials were surprised to find another body had been substituted. This body was identified positively as that of Lawrence. The coroner found a blow on the head had been inflicted.

Body Juggled Adds to Mystery.
At first robbery was thought to have been the sole motive for the murder. All the jewels Lawrence had carried from his home were missing. But when Lawrence's body was substituted in the grave for that of the man killed in the railway accident the case assumed a more sinister aspect.

Records showed that before the body of the railroad victim had been removed from the first undertaking rooms Edward J. Lawrence, a nephew of Richard Lawrence, viewed it and identified it as that of his uncle. And it was the widow's desire, brother after the will that has kept the inquiry going for more than two years.

Lawrence started collecting jewels years before when a broker in Denver. He was reported to have made considerable money at his business. Records showed that before the body of the railroad victim had been removed from the first undertaking rooms Edward J. Lawrence, a nephew of Richard Lawrence, viewed it and identified it as that of his uncle. And it was the widow's desire, brother after the will that has kept the inquiry going for more than two years.

He had little faith in banks, and all his jewels, bonds, and money he kept about his home. The $100,000 "Orange diamond," said to have been brought from South Africa in 1884 as a birthday gift for Queen Victoria, was kept in a black wallet with the others. His possessions were valued at $300,000.

THE DEMON CHAUFFEUR

Here is Policeman George Schupolsky of the West Chicago avenue station with the idol of his heart—"Blue Devil," speed champion of the police fliers. He maintains "Blue Devil" has hung up a speed record of a mile in 68.45 seconds, making all the other police fliers pout.

"NANCY HANKS" was a demon on wheels, but "Lightning" was faster. Then along came "Blue Devil" yesterday morning and hung up a speed record that distanced the efforts of any and all police fliers so far, it is believed.
"Blue Devil" is piloted by Policeman George B. Schupolsky of the West Chicago avenue station. He maintains he drove over rough streets from the station to Mount and Walton, where a robbery had been reported, in 172 seconds.
"That's two and a half miles," he said, "or at the rate of nearly a mile a minute."
However, Capt. Patrick Harding of Shakespeare avenue maintains that "Lightning" made a mile and a quarter in ninety-four seconds.
"The other day a woman complained of two burglars," he said. "Lightning" was at the house and the burglars were captured before she finished her telephone conversation.
And "Nancy Hanks" did a mile and a block in one minute and four seconds, which is not so slow, according to Capt. James Gleason of Fillmore street.

In addition Secretary Lansing served formal notice on the Japanese delegates in writing that America understood Yip to be specially reserved for disposition by the communications conference.

On May 6, 1918, however, the supreme council allocated the north Pacific islands to Japan as the prospective mandatory, making no exception of Yip. The minutes of the council of five for May 7 show the Pacific mandate disposition was finally approved. Attached to the minutes is an appendix showing the allocation of the islands to Japan, which omits any reference to special treatment of Yip.

Mr. Wilson, according to Mr. Davis, never saw this appendix and supposed that the allocation had been with his reservation regarding Yip. The Japanese now contend that no agreement was made at the time of the conference to except Yip to be reached and that Mr. Wilson's reservation was merely an opinion projected into the discussion.

On Dec. 17 last the league council perfected the mandate, without exempting Yip, and Japan has accepted it and intends to hold the islands under that authority. Great Britain supports Japan's repudiation of the agreement. Mr. Wilson thought he had obtained.

It was the hope of Mr. Undermyer, as counsel for the committee investigating the "building trust" that cash books, minutes of meetings, and other records of the Building Trades council might be in the safes and have a bearing on the extortion charges on which Brindell is to face trial.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—There is only one way to open those safes. That is to blow them, said a safe expert, his hands bleeding after four hours of effort.

"Goodness gracious!" Samuel Undermyer exclaimed. "Don't blow them open in this building. Send for more experts."

This dialogue today proved that for the present whatever records affecting Robert Brindell, president of the Building Trades council, may be in the safes are secure. Mr. Undermyer had them brought to the Criminal court building and called the expert when process servers had failed to locate the secretary of the council, who has the combinations.

SENATE SHOWN HIDDEN JOKER IN YAP MANDATE

Appendix to Minutes Not Seen by Wilson.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—How Japan, with the backing of Great Britain, is endeavoring to deprive the United States of equal rights in the important Pacific cable station island of Yap was disclosed in the senate committee on foreign relations today by Acting Secretary of State Davis. The dispute has reached such a pass that the administration has threatened not to recognize the validity of the mandate over the former German island in the north Pacific, guarded by Japan by the council of the League of Nations, unless Yap be excluded from the mandate and be internationalized.

No Longer Feels Bound.
Mr. Davis, with the sanction of the president, submitted the minutes of the council of five at Paris, which Mr. Wilson understood to contain a unanimous agreement that Yap should be exempted from the treatment of the other islands and disposed of by the international communications conference.

It is recorded that President Wilson said he did not feel bound to abide by the Anglo-Japanese secret treaty dividing the German islands in the Pacific. Apparently, however, the president did not object to Japan receiving a mandate over the north Pacific archipelago.

His utmost demand, according to the minutes, was that Yap should be exempted from the mandate and be internationalized, so the United States and other nations might have equal cable and radio rights in the western Pacific. The minutes of several sessions show he made that express reservation and that no objection was voiced thereto.

advantage of the officials remaining behind, especially the German ambassador.

"At the last minute I decided in collaboration with Chief Privy Government Councillor Albert, to make merely a short and less sharp statement, which was an extract of Untermyer's long one, in the personal interest of my own greater peace, and conformably to my very self-sacrificing time in New York."

Mr. Palmer then continues: "Mr. Untermyer's true status is again shown in the hand written diary of Chief Privy Councillor Albert, representing the Zentral Einkaufsgesellschaft in this country, and today under-secretary of state of the German republic. Albert's diary says: 'In other respects this Easter festival passed off somewhat anxiously, since at noon I was summoned to Plainfield to Untermyer and in the evening to Untermyer at his estate at Greytowne.'

Lindheim, Untermyer's relative. "Thus it appears that although Hayes, Kaufman, and Lindheim were the publicly admitted attorneys of the German embassy, Untermyer was, in the opinion of the embassy at least, its controlling and chief counsel."

"When we realize that my office has recently prosecuted to conviction and sentence both Kaufman and Lindheim for violations of the law growing out of their activities as counsel for German interests, and that Mr. Lindheim is Mr. Untermyer's relative, according to his own sworn statement before the German committee, it is plain that conscienceless resentment now moves him, although before this prosecution on July 26, 1919, more than four months after I had severed all connection with the alien property custodian's office, he wired me: 'I have freely, openly, consistently admired your fair judicial attitude in every transaction where I was concerned and will be glad in common justice to repeat that assertion at any place and time. Your office was conducted with exceptional ability. You selected best talent regardless of other considerations. No able, more devoted officials than Garvan and Bradley Palmer could anywhere be found. Money could not buy such service.'

"Mr. Untermyer is simply serving his old clients by attempting to discredit the wartime work of capturing enemy property in the United States."

LIES, UNTERMYER SAYS

New York, Jan. 25.—[Special.]—Samuel Untermyer late tonight wrote out the following reply, when shown a copy of Attorney General Palmer's statement:

"I have just been shown, at 10 o'clock tonight, Mr. Palmer's lying and oft-refuted statements concerning my alleged activities before our country entered the war. I insisted on appearing before the German committee and disproving them at that time. I then demonstrated:

"1. That I never had acted as counsel for the German embassy or for any one connected with it and never had received a dollar of their money.

"2. That I met Boy-Ed only once in my life, never had any business, social, or professional relations with him, and never wrote him or received a letter from him in my life.

"3. That after diplomatic relations were severed and before we entered the war I opened recruiting stations on the lower east side.

FREE BULBS

George and Alex Demopoulos (at right) and the sack of Lilacae they will give away, 100 pounds to the caller, this morning.

To every person who applies this morning at the office of Demopoulos & Demopoulos, commission merchants at 737 West Randolph street, George and Alex Demopoulos, the proprietors, will give a 100 pound sack of bulbs of the biennial herb allium cepa, family Lilacae. From this the layman might be led to believe the bulbs are related to the lily or lilac family, but such is not the case. The odors are strangely dissimilar.

The bulbs to be given away are used extensively in making Irish stews, salads, lyonnaise potatoes, and soup. They possess an acid, volatile oil which is removed by boiling.

The firm has 350 one hundred pound sacks which have been in cold storage. Only one sack will be given to a customer, the only stipulation being that he must carry it away. The bulbs are not strong enough to travel on their own power, but they are strong and the flavor lasts. They are onions.

"His assertions as to the amount expended in the non-enforcement of the law are grossly misleading. He should and would be removed from office if his derelictions in that respect were known, as they will be if an investigation is ordered."

"Country Due for Shocks." "His statements as to fees paid and collected by his political favorites out of alien enemy properties are so evasive and insincere that they amount to prevarication."

"I think the attorney general and his political manager, Garvan, as one, as does everybody who knows the fact, and I repeat that the fees taken out of these properties and paid by him had mounted into the millions. The revelations of the doings of this man in public office will prove the greatest shock the country has had in a long time."

"On the question of relative loyalty I will match my services against his (Palmer's) at any time. Whilst I was sacrificing my time and my money for my country he was a swivel chair patriot, contentedly and regularly drawing his pay and doing his country untold harm by his narrow and foolish policies in a great office for which he was lamentably unfitted."

Dr. Freund Assails Palmer. "Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—[Special.]—Among the criticisms of Attorney General Palmer heard by the senate judiciary committee today was one by Dr. Ernst Freund of the University of Chicago law school. A paper prepared by Dr. Freund was read by Robert L. Henry, a Washington attorney.

"I have just been shown, at 10 o'clock tonight, Mr. Palmer's lying and oft-refuted statements concerning my alleged activities before our country entered the war. I insisted on appearing before the German committee and disproving them at that time. I then demonstrated:

"1. That I never had acted as counsel for the German embassy or for any one connected with it and never had received a dollar of their money.

"2. That I met Boy-Ed only once in my life, never had any business, social, or professional relations with him, and never wrote him or received a letter from him in my life.

"3. That after diplomatic relations were severed and before we entered the war I opened recruiting stations on the lower east side.

CAMINETTI FINDS IMMIGRANTS ARE URGED TO COME

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—Secretary Wilson's suggestion that the admissibility of immigrants to the United States be considered at the source so as to avoid the "tragedy" of aliens breaking up their homes and coming to America, only to be excluded, has met with the instant approval of European governments and American diplomatic and consular officers overseas, Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration, declared today before the senate immigration committee.

Mr. Caminetti described his recent trip through Europe to obtain first hand information and told of the extensive preparations being made by steamship lines, foreign governments, and various organizations for handling the expected flood to America.

Incidentally Mr. Caminetti said there was a general impression among Europeans that the American government, through various organizations operating to assist immigrants on their way, was inviting aliens. He declared that this was not the intention of the organizers.

Mr. Caminetti pointed out that while American laws prohibited persons or associations engaged in transporting aliens to or within the United States from in any manner soliciting, inviting, or encouraging any alien, there was nothing in the law to prohibit persons or associations not engaged in transporting aliens from inviting or encouraging them to come to America.

"What can be done, or what should be done, if anything," he said, "is a matter to which consideration should be given."

Mr. Caminetti said he visited eight countries—Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Yugoslavia—and found officials deeply interested in the proposal of Secretary Wilson and ready to cooperate.

He said he had been told that the American government was inviting aliens to come to America.

PARIS, Jan. 25.—The allied supreme council this morning rejected recommendations of the allied commissioners at Vienna, who urged immediate relief for Austria. The council decided that Austria's plight was so bound up in the economic situation of all Europe that the whole question was referred to a special committee, composed of the commerce ministers of the allied powers for investigation. Sir Robert Horne will represent Great Britain and M. Loucheur, France. The commission will conduct an exhaustive review of the general economic status of Europe.

Points Out Red Menace.
Sir William Goode, the British representative at Vienna, who recommended that France and Great Britain loan Austria $100,000,000 in ten annual installments, pleaded with the council to consider the starving population, asserting that the Communists were prepared to overthrow the government and to establish a soviet if the aid was refused.

He suggested that the United States might participate in the loan, but the premier decided it would be unwise to approach America on the question until the new administration is installed.

France Agrees to Delay.
The council's military experts under chairmanship of Marshall Foch this morning scrapped the original French project of demanding immediate disarmament of the Bavarian Oersche. Foch agreed to a delay until July 1 for involving the civilian military organizations of Bavaria and East Prussia, but insisting upon guarantees by military occupation of the Ruhr district in Bavaria if the terms were not extended by that time.

Mr. Henry Wilson presented General Lathams' figures on destruction of raw material which shows that Germany practically has executed the treaty and Spa conference demands, notwithstanding General Nollet's figures.

IN CONFERENCE ON NEAR EAST.
PARIS, Jan. 25.—[By the Associated Press.]—The supreme council today decided to call a conference of allied representatives with representatives of Greece and Turkey in London at an early date to settle the near east question.

The conference in London will be held the latter part of February, beginning probably Feb. 21. Premier Briand will send telegrams tomorrow to the governments at Athens and Constantinople notifying them of the decision of the council. It is understood that the Constantinople government is left free to negotiate with the government at Ankara for the dispatch of a joint delegation representing both.

ACCUSED ROBBER LIVES IN STYLE AT LOOP HOTEL

A "holdup trust," one of whose supposed members lived in fashion at a loop hotel, is believed to have been broken up yesterday by the police in the arrest of five men in a west side saloon. Two members of the gang were identified by one of its recent victims and one is said to have confessed.

Two places believed to have been robbed by the men were the Jacob Klein Loan bank at 502 South Halsted street, where $15,000 was taken, and the pawnshop of Nathan Schwartz, 739 North Clark street, where the loot was $10,000.

The arrests were made by Detective Sergeants Stapleton, Boschulte, Christensen, and Casey of the pawnshop detail after they had traced a stolen watch through five purchasers. The names of two of the men arrested were withheld. The others were Daniel Lombard, 312 Whiting street; Paul Malara, 1008 Orleans street, and Jack Morgan, room 906 Hotel Sherman.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR AMERICAN BONDING CONCERN

The American Bonding and Casualty company—the firm is capitalized at $500,000 and has $100,000,000 worth of policies on its books—was declared insolvent in Judge Poell's Superior court yesterday and Attorney Albert Sabath appointed receiver.

According to Attorney Leonard Grossman, law partner of Mr. Sabath and his counsel in the case, the admitted assets of the company are $3,000,000.

DE VALERA DUG WAY INTO ERIN WITH COAL SCOOP

Crossed as Stoker on a British Liner.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 25.—[Special.]—Eamon de Valera, "president" of the "Irish republic," who slipped into Ireland past the guarding cordon of the British, shipped from this port as a stoker on a British freighter. Confirmation of this came today from officers of the ship.

"Harold Merry," with a passport presumably issued by the local British consulate, left Philadelphia on Thanksgiving day as a member of the "black gang" on the Southwestern Miller. This is the man believed to have been De Valera.

Capt. James Williamson, master of the freighter, which is now taking on cargo at the Port Richmond piers, said a photograph of De Valera was that of "Harold Merry," the stoker, who, he says, "jumped" the ship in London.

Officers Identify Photograph.
Chief Engineer M. C. Hunt of the Miller, who has direct supervision over the engine and fire room crews, also was positive in his identification. Shown a photograph of De Valera, he said there was no doubt De Valera and "Harold Merry" were the same man.

When the Southwestern Miller was loading cargo, which began Thanksgiving day, "Merry" loitered about the ship for two days. He was finally signed for the trip at the British consulate.

When the Southwestern Miller nosed into her dock in London "Merry" tried to land, but he was barred by English immigration officers. They based their refusal on the ground that he was an undesirable alien.

Shortly afterward "Merry" disappeared, collecting the pay due him for the trip.

BATTLE IN TIPPERARY

BY JOHN LESTER.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.

DUBLIN, Jan. 25.—A "republican" flying column caught a motor patrol near Killemaule, County Tipperary, today. The road at this point skirts rocky hills, from which a sudden hail of lead was poured into the approaching police and soldiers.

The Irish fire was briskly returned and the military cars increased their speed. Two soldiers were killed, a military and police official and five soldiers and policemen wounded. Subsequent operations failed to locate the flying column.

Listowel shops, County Kerry, are allowed to remain open only two hours daily. The military called a meeting of the residents and announced there would be official reprisals for the killing of Inspector O'Sullivan.

The military invaded Waterford city hall after Dr. White was reflected mayor, and searched all present. They carried off the mayor's cloak, which was in the Irish tricolor.

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN TO GET $500,000 FOR FAVILL MEMORIALS

A campaign to raise a fund of $500,000 for two memorials to the late Dr. Henry B. Favill was launched yesterday by a committee, which has been planning the work for the last four years.

Dr. Favill, who for more than twenty years was on the staff of St. Luke's hospital, died in 1916. Following his death, a committee was appointed by the City club and the Commercial club of Chicago to organize a larger committee to decide on a fitting memorial in his honor.

Half the money raised will be used to establish a laboratory at St. Luke's hospital "for diagnosis and research and especially devoted to the study of problems relating to the practice of internal medicine." The other $250,000 will be set aside as a permanent fund to be known as the "Henry Baird Favill foundation."

Edgar A. Bancroft is chairman of the committee and the other members are Cyrus Bentley, Anita McCormick Blaine, E. C. Dudley, Frank W. Gunsaulus, E. D. Hubert, Cyrus H. McCormick, Allen B. Pond, W. E. Skinner, and N. D. Sibney, secretary.

RUSSIA PLANS PERSIA TREATY; SHELVES BRITISH

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—What purports to be a draft of the treaty which Soviet Russia is seeking to have Persia accept has been received by the state department. In exchange for its conclusion, the soviet are said to have offered to abrogate the Anglo-Russian agreement of 1907, regarding spheres of influence in Persia.

Secret provisions of the draft received here convey the right to soviet Russia to send her troops into Persia in the event of an invasion of that country by a force hostile to Russia. Persia under other provisions would agree not to suppress the organizations of workmen and Socialists nor their propaganda provided the organizations and propaganda were not directed at attacks on the Persian government.

Advices to the department say that the negotiations between the two governments have progressed to a point little short of ratification of the treaty and that as a result the British are in process of quitting Persia.

Sections of the treaty which are not made secret provide that soviet Russia shall not intervene in internal affairs in Persia; that all loans hitherto made by Russian to Persia shall be canceled; that the Russian bank in Persia and all property belonging to it and all rights granted it shall revert to Persia as well as all postoffices, telegraph lines, and roads operated by Russians in Persia.

SEVERAL TO RUN FOR MAYOR ON LONG SHOT BET

Henry Eckhardt, former assistant state's attorney, probably will not be the only man to file a mayoralty primary petition during the next two weeks, although there is no election scheduled for this office until 1923.

Mr. Eckhardt, recognizing the possibility of a Supreme court decision that Chicago, like other Illinois towns, must elect a chief executive every two years, already has his petition in circulation. But the indications are he won't have the field to himself. Abraham Salinsky, once a candidate for city treasurer, has made preparations to follow suit, and several other politicians of greater or lesser caliber, have asked their friends they intend to get in on the early spring filing.

To Go to Supreme Court.

Where it will all end, nobody is confident in his predictions, but Mr. Eckhardt said he is prepared to take his candidacy to the Supreme court if necessary.

"I am acting as an individual in the matter," he said yesterday, "and haven't consulted with any of the so-called political leaders or asked their support."

In this connection, he denied emphatically that former State's Attorney Hoyne or Thomas Marshall, attorney in the Fox election fraud case, had any advance knowledge of his action.

Earlier in the day Corporation Counsel Ettelson had charged that Mr. Eckhardt's move was "another Fox conspiracy." Mr. Eckhardt and other lawyers have contended that an amendment of the cities and villages act in 1919 wiped out earlier legislative action extending the term of office for the mayor of Chicago to four years. Mr. Ettelson denied this.

In spite of the economy program for the inauguration of President Elect Harding, the Hamilton club will send a special train to Washington carrying a large number of its members and their wives and the club chorus of forty voices.

The 30th ward regular Democratic organization has endorsed the candidacy of Ald. W. J. Lynch for reelection.

$25,000 for Loss of Leg Is Boy's Birthday Gift

A birthday present of $25,000 was received yesterday by John Cunningham, 1345 South May street, in the form of a verdict against the Consumers company. Young Cunningham, who was 18 years old yesterday, lost a leg when he was run down by a Consumers company truck on Sept. 15, 1918. A jury in Judge Harry B. Miller's court awarded him the damages. Attorney H. H. Patterson represented the Foreman Brothers Banking company, guardians of the boy.

HIS OWN $5.64 MAIN WORRY OF $188,000 THIEF

Guy Kyle, Mount Vernon's preacher, still has a keen sense of money values. When postoffice inspectors took him to East St. Louis yesterday for arraignment and further questioning concerning his manipulation of the $188,000 in bank notes stolen from the mails, he seemed restless.

"Do you boys remember when you searched me and took a large amount of money from my pockets?" he asked his guards at last.

"Sure," replied Inspector Hirschcock. "Why?"

"Well, you got some of my own money along with the stolen goods," came the reply; "a little bit over $5.14 calculate."

The officers check the amount in question as $5.64, but they are still marvelling over his financial memory. Kyle will be arraigned today before United States Commissioner Oscar Hooker. He will be remanded to the Mount Vernon jail so that investigators can reach him easily in clearing up details of the recent theft.

"Amazing Results and at Such Low Cost!"

In our files is a letter from a real printer actually thanking the Almighty that he found such a thing as a barometer of paper prices.

"B.P.H." Quotations, he says, are not only amazingly low but the stock—the hand re-sorted seconds, for instance—serves my quality purposes admirably. "If every printer and paper user in America made a habit of consulting your lists before buying elsewhere, we'd have better printing, cheaper."

Why not add your name to our roster and receive regularly our semi-monthly list of "Seconds" and monthly list of "Jobs and Perfects"? A swatch of test papers for proving quality will be sent gratis.

MECCA' CURTAIN SAVES PILGRIMS FROM ROBBERS

Not on Program, but the Opening Is a Success.

The first showing of "Mecca," the spectacular produced by Comstock and Gest, went off smoothly at the Auditorium last night—with the exception of one thing. Several pilgrims in the second act who were on their way to the shrine of Mecca failed to be captured by a band of robbers as scheduled.

The reason was this: The great hydraulic curtain fell in the midst of the scene. The mechanism was adjusted and the curtain raised after a few minutes had elapsed. But the audience was left with the vision of the pilgrims awaiting a thrilling capture which never was made. For the scene was not repeated.

This is said to be the fourth time in the year that the curtain has misbehaved.

But the well filled house estimated at 10,000, was more beautiful and twice as big as its predecessors—"Chu Chin" and "Aphrodite."

80 People, Camels, Donkeys, Etc. The play is in three acts and eleven scenes. The most sensational of which was a bacchanale staged by Michael Comstock, one of the creators of the "Mecca" series.

The picture itself, and the slave market, and the scene of the gates of Mecca at dawn, the fountain gardens of the sultan's palace, and the slave market, and the scene of the gates of Mecca at dawn, the fountain gardens of the sultan's palace, and the slave market.

Something like 400 people participated in the performance, besides many camels, donkeys, horses, and goats.

The story is a melodrama of the east with princes, sultans, warriors, wrestlers, and beautiful slave girls.

GHOST ACCUSES MAN OF MURDER; JURY HOLDS HIM

On the testimony of a spook as relayed to Toy Fong, a waiter, by a spiritualist medium, a coroner's jury yesterday ordered the police to arrest Arthur Williams, a Negro porter, and hold him to the grand jury on a charge of having murdered Chin Ding, a Chinaman who was beaten to death on Jan. 3.

Ding was found with his skull caved in in the Madison Inn, a Chinese restaurant at 3208 West Madison street. He had been killed by a robber who escaped with $400. A week prior to the murder, Williams, then residing at 485 East Thirty-first street, had been discharged as porter at the restaurant because of inefficiency.

Questioned, but Released. He was taken into custody as a suspect by the Warren avenue police and held for nine days. After being questioned by the police and the state's attorney's office, he was released.

An investigation was then conducted on the theory that the murder might have been the result of a long war. Toy Don, manager of the restaurant, testified at the inquest yesterday that this was impossible.

"We have had no trouble with the tongs," he said, "and it is clear to me that the murder is the result of a robbery. I hope the jury will clear us of the charge of long warfare."

Toy Fong, a waiter in the restaurant, was then called. "After the murder," he testified, "I visited a medium, a woman who knew nothing of the affair. She went into a trance and communicated with Chin Ding's spirit, who described the murder to her. She said this man Williams did it. She said he came into the place and locked Chin Ding in the ice box. He opened the door and was about to climb out when Williams picked up a hammer and struck him over the head, she said."

Refused Medium's Name. Fong refused to give the name or address of the woman, saying he had promised her he would not reveal this information.

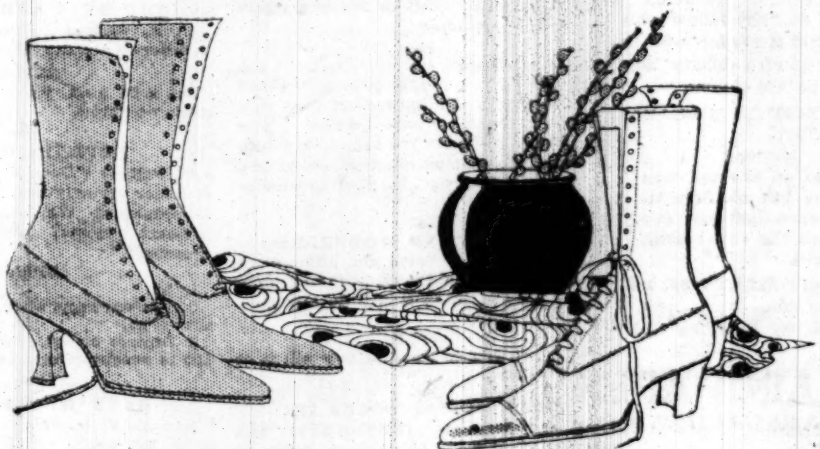

"I went back to see her again and told her she had better tell the police what Ding's spirit said," he testified. "She warned me not to say anything about it to the police because they already knew all about it. She said the police knew Williams killed Ding."

The jury then returned a verdict holding Williams to the grand jury for the crime and ordered the police to arrest him. A search is being made for him.

Uruguayan Women Want Passage of Suffrage Bill (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

MONTEVIDEO, Jan. 25.—The National Council of Women has addressed a note to the chamber of deputies asking the early passage of a bill, now pending, granting women the right to vote in municipal elections. They argue that while foreigners are allowed the municipal vote after a few years' residence, the native women, who are much more interested in the national welfare of Uruguay, are barred from the privilege.

The Great Need In Business Today!

When primitive man went out to barter he put his trust in his knotty club and his brawny arm. His guiding thought was: Might makes right. On that principle he engaged in the business of barter and exchange. As civilization progressed faith entered into life. With faith came new ideals; new standards of life; fair and square dealing in business.

Faith produced confidence, the driving force in business. Confidence produced credit, giving scope to business. It furnished lubrication to the wheels of industry. Through the ages, faith and confidence have been the great factors in the development of civilization and the building of industry.

Faith, confidence and credit must be the bedrock foundation of business in this country. Of material things this nation has enough—food at the present time to supply the world's deficiencies; bank reserves six times as great as England; four hundred billions of dollars in national wealth. And, in addition, a credit with other nations surpassing that of any other nation in history.

What More Do We Want?

One thing only—the re-establishment of confidence. Our mental equilibrium needs to be restored, that's all. Not such a great task for a nation so favorably endowed with the material things industry needs.

Confidence will again open the channels of trade. It will stimulate buying, open factories and better labor conditions. It will give the country a position of supremacy in the world's commerce and industry.

It was faith and confidence that produced MOSINEE KRAFT—the first and only standardized wrapping paper. Faith in the economy of its uniform quality and confidence in its appeal to the just discrimination of all intelligent buyers.

MOSINEE KRAFT wraps packages for SAFE delivery to all parts of the world—wraps them at lowest cost per yard.

MOSINEE KRAFT tests a point per pound and is guaranteed not to overrun its basis weight. Every yard is uniform in tensile strength. Therefore merchants and manufacturers can buy lighter weights—no need to pay for excess weight to make sure of wrapping strength.

Thus MOSINEE gives more yards per pound and per dollar. MOSINEE KRAFT can be bought with Confidence. More Yards Per Pound. Costs Less Per Yard.

Prices Again Reduced

Saving the Builder $8.00 per 1,000 Square Feet Since December 10th

The Cornell Wood Products Company of Chicago has just notified 10,000 lumber dealers throughout America of another reduction of $4.00 per 1,000 sq. ft. in the price of Cornell Panels. This follows a like reduction of $4.00 made in December, making a total reduction of $8.00 per 1,000 sq. ft. in 46 days.

This Company has been quick to recognize the national need for a general reduction in the cost of building construction as expressed by the building industry and particularly by the resolution adopted by the National Building Materials conference in Chicago, January 21st and 22nd.

The substantial nature of these reductions places Cornell-Wood-Board on a basis that enables home owners and builders to proceed with Spring construction with every assurance of a rock-bottom price.

THE STATE BONUS AND THE ISSUE BACK OF IT.

The American Legion of Illinois will have a state bonus bill before the legislature. It may be welcomed not only because of the justice of the soldiers' claim but also as offering a showdown between patriotism and the brand of politics which is exploiting disloyalty as a political asset.

With renegades organized to support the politics of disloyalty and a celebrated citizen soldier like Gen. Sanborn in danger of being turned out of office, it is high time for the Legion and all loyal men and women of this state to declare war.

Partly because of after-war reaction the politics of disloyalty is in high feather. It is ruthless and shameless—which is a very good thing for the state in spite of the humiliation it suffers in the eyes of the nation. The farther the disloyalists are tempted to go the clearer the character of their politics will be and the quicker the people will deal with it. Undoubtedly we have been passing through a moral slump. The American Legion is subject to slumps. But it recovers promptly because the basis of character is sound, and we have no fear that the politics of disloyalty will prevail against the patriotism and gratitude and public honor of Illinois.

The American Legion represents the highest ideals of American citizenship and its demand for material recognition of the service and sacrifice of our veterans is a demand less for money than for a recognition from the community that is not merely lip service costing nothing. Many civilians have found it very easy to get tired of the war and tired of the men they were so eager to applaud when war was on. It is easy to forget a service done. But the service of the men of 1917 and 1918 is not going to be forgotten. It cannot be paid because the sacrifice men then offered is beyond price. But the community can show that it means what it says when it praises the soldier and pledges its undying gratitude as we did when the soldier marched away.

THE DIPLOMATIC SERVICE.

A house subcommittee's recommendation that the appropriation for our diplomatic service be cut 25 per cent will cause no protest among the informed. The appropriation asked is three times the sum granted in 1916, and it is difficult to believe this increase is justified. Our diplomatic relations may be more complicated and important than before the war, and certainly there is enough room for improvement in the service to inspire any ambitious secretary of state. But keeping a large number of young gentlemen who are too elegant to work in the besotted glory of our embassies and legations is not precisely what we care to spend our money for.

We need a thorough practical overhauling of our diplomatic personnel and organization, with the object of weeding out the society youth, the snob, and the expatriate, and the building up of an ardently American, well prepared, hard working personnel from top to bottom. Probably by bringing the consular service into the same organization and uniting it with the diplomatic would be profitable, for it would give diplomats necessary economic and business knowledge and experience while opening the consular service to higher grades of promotion and larger opportunities.

There are very able, conscientious men in our diplomatic service and they should not be handicapped by inefficient subordinates or superiors. We hope the incoming administration will accomplish the overhauling referred to and put our diplomatic service in the way of meeting its growing responsibilities. The United States is entering the world race and our outposts should be of the best.

SHIPS AND MEN TO MAN THEM.

Civilians, and this includes congressmen and government officials, think of the navy solely in terms of ships. We frequently read comparisons of naval strength among the nations which consist entirely in a listing of battleships, battle cruisers, destroyers, etc.

When the Spanish-American war began we had an illustration of what this test is worth in some cases. On paper, by ship comparison, Spain ranked a little ahead of us. It didn't turn out to be a good test.

In fact, ships are not a navy, any more than rifles and tents are an army. It would be nearer the truth to say that men are a navy as men are an army. But this means not the raw material of manhood, but men trained and fused morally and physically into an organization.

Just now Mr. Daniels is talking about a naval agreement to limit the building of ships and in favor of putting millions into a program which would bring in to a parity—in ships—with England. But how much attention is being given to the building of a naval personnel, officer and petty officer and disciplined seaman?

Great Britain has a great naval personnel, but the very secretary who is now for our building more ships submitted to a reduction of personnel on the eve of war which reduced the efficiency of our naval defense perhaps 20 or more per cent.

Personnel, trained and disciplined man-power, sufficient to keep all ships in fighting trim, and a reserve sufficient to man any increase of the navy in time of war—these are all-important elements in naval strength, and ship building without them is waste of money.

But ship building is a profitable form of preparation from the viewpoint of ship building interests, armor plate interests, powder manufacturers, etc., who are not concerned over the neglect of true naval strength as revealed by reducing personnel. In fact, we believe the spending of money on personnel might be deprecated, if not openly opposed, by some who would be all for building "incomparably the greatest navy in the world." Also the division of the fleet might leave these interests cold, or even be favored by them, if they are sufficiently short sighted, for if we are to divide the fleet we must certainly increase, if not double, the size of its parts.

An ample and well trained officer and petty officer personnel is essential to our naval preparedness. No program of ship building should be adopted which is not based on the personnel we are willing to maintain.

But before all, we should say, our naval situation and policy calls for a calm and comprehensive review. We must get rid of the Daniels regime, its notions and its system, before we can go ahead.

GERMAN DISARMAMENT.

Henry Wales of The Tribune Foreign News Service reports that the French have moved toward the British viewpoint respecting German disarmament. It is devoutly to be hoped this tendency will not fail.

The disarmament problem is a very delicate and difficult one and for some time will be the most dangerous in Europe. We must sympathize with French distrust of German conditions and purposes, considering the history of the last two generations. But French sensitiveness and pessimism are not the best grounds for a clear appreciation of the situation, which we think the British are more likely to approximate or attain.

The American viewpoint may neglect France's necessities, or rather underestimate the dangers she fears, but that of Great Britain will hardly do so. We think, therefore, that the latter's unwillingness to insist upon further measures of disarmament is probably wise. Germany's internal situation is still very unstable and its instability means the instability of Europe. The fall of the existing moderate government would shake the world. Even France cannot afford to gamble on such a catastrophe. Germany's external situation as a conservative bulwark to Red Russia is also an important factor to conserve. In short, doubts should be resolved in favor of the support of the existing German regime, not against it.

A weak Germany, trembling on the brink of revolution or bolshevik invasion, is a terrific obstruction to the restoration of peace and reconstruction. The military conceptions of the extremists in French politics and opinion should not control the course of the supreme council. It is to be hoped French civilian intelligence will come to the rescue of moderate policy.

A 5 CENT FARE WHILE WE'RE ALL ALIVE.

We do not quite follow the city hall complaint that enemies of the people are urging a revision of street car fare, for both surface and elevated roads, under Gov. Small and his utility commission. How does the city hall get that way?

What has made the 5 cent fare suddenly undesirable? What has made it particularly undesirable for the elevated and only a little less undesirable for the surface lines?

Everybody knows that prices and wages are over the peak of the hill and on their way down. What is there inimical to the public good in urging Mr. Small to make use of his present power and see if his utilities commission cannot give the people cheaper fares, the 5 cent fare of other years?

Has Mr. Thompson lost all influence with Mr. Small, or has he lost all interest in the 5 cent fare? This is the great mystery of the city hall. Mr. Small and Mr. Thompson only four months ago were telling people all over Chicago that a capitalist infestation had been done by traction barons successfully operating a branch of the state government.

Mr. Small and Mr. Thompson are now the people's guardians. They can rectify wrongs. They can correct injustice. If the fares are fixed unjustly in the interests of the companies Mr. Small can fix them justly in the interests of the people.

Why wait until Mr. Thompson can work a traction district scheme through the legislature, submit it to the people and have it adopted, nominate traction trustees and have them elected, and have the trustees issue bonds and levy taxes?

These processes will be painfully long even if everybody takes his coat off and works to speed them up, and in the meanwhile the citizens will be paying over their 8 cents and their 10 cents.

If there is an injustice in the fares, why not correct that now and then go ahead with the mayor's traction scheme?

Why not do something while we're all alive?

Editorial of the Day

THE ASSETS OF CRIME.

[Pearla Transcript.]

State's Attorney Crowe of Chicago is studying methods to prevent persons charged with crime, but at large on bail, from committing new crimes while awaiting trial in order to provide "fall money" for their lawyers.

That is to say, it is becoming common practice in Chicago for persons charged with robbery and burglary to commit new offenses against society in order to supply their lawyers with enough money to finance their defense. The situation is not new, but the fact that outlaws have adopted modern business methods and are no longer willing to trust their lives or freedom to mediocre lawyers suggests the necessity for devising new methods for combating crime.

In the old days the "stick-up" man equipped himself with a revolver and mask and confined his thinking to the crime per se. Today he works intently with shrewd confederates and plans, not only the crime, but his defense in the event he is captured. He discounts arrest, rearrest, and all the legal processes available to send him to the penitentiary or gallows.

The modern criminal has his automobile, his chauffeur, his "fence," a battery of lawyers, straw bondsmen, jury fixers, and political friends. He has reduced the liabilities of his business to a minimum. But when the gaunters for any emergency, he is prepared to smash the machinery of the law as well as the head of a bank teller.

The right to bail, except for capital offenses where the proof is evident or the presumption great, is guaranteed by the constitution, provided the surety is sufficient. But in practice sureties have not been sufficient. Moreover, there is no ethical reason why burglary and robbery should not be made capital offenses. In any event, the legislature should take cognizance of syndicated crime and insure the public effective protection against the man with a gun, an automobile, and a hard road.

It is also an anomaly in a civilized state that hundreds of men should prowling the streets with automatics and ammunition. The so-called bandit is only part of the system under which he does business. He looks for protection to the gang, and the gang is a business organization which has discounted the routine of the law. Crime "waves" will recede only when crime is traced to "the source."

This ought to furnish a new field of research.

POEMS OF SENTIMENT AND REFLECTION.

Stout Falls.

[From the Stout Falls Press.]
What if we don't have palaces,
With damp and musty walls?
We have the great St. Louis river,
And greater yet, Stout Falls.
We don't have to go abroad,
God's beauties just to see,
But stay at home
And take in
Around Stout Falls with me.

WE confess a fondness for verse like the foregoing, and hope some day to find a poem as good as that masterpiece—

"I've traveled east, I've traveled west,
I've been to the great St. Louis,
But the finest place I've ever seen
Is Attica, Indiana."

BUT OUGHT YOU TO LAUGH AT SUCH THINGS?

Sir: In my town where church is our only diversion we laugh at such things as this: The Christian minister preached a sermon on "How to Become a Christian." The Methodist pastor, not to be outdone or outshined, followed with one on "How to Become a Methodist." A. I.

OUR contrib. E. C. W., recently demonstrated that a hot water bottle marked $1.98 is not worth $3, although the advertisement says, "$3 hot water bottles, $1.98." PATIENT CURES HIMSELF.

"MAY I burst into your column long enough to say my own experience has led me to believe insomnia is only a bad habit? Two years ago I was attacked by sleeplessness and for six months I suffered what every other restless and nervous person suffers. Then, after I had spent both hours and dollars with some of your colleagues, and with no result, I decided that I might be able to help myself.

"I concluded that it was sleeplessness that kept me awake and I went to work to remedy that. My first remedy was never to let myself sleep during the night, no matter how tired and exhausted I was as the result of the night before. When sleeplessness came upon me at 5 p. m., as it did for several nights, I 'staved it off' by a brisk walk.

"After my evening meal, which was a light, easily digested one, I took a long walk, which in the beginning I carried to the point of extreme physical weariness. I think I walked six miles the first few nights. Then I went back home, took a warm bath, drank a glass of hot milk, and got into bed at 10 o'clock. Each night I slept religiously to the same bedtime.

"I cannot say that it worked like a magic. As I remember it, I slept the first night, slept awake the second and third, and slept the fourth. But I persisted and in a week I was back into deep sleep.

"For a year now I have omitted the hot milk and the long walk, but still take a little spring and the bath each night. I sleep well and my general health is better than in years.

"I believe insomnia is merely a bad habit and can be cured by any patient who is physically able to follow a rigorous mental training."

In reply, thanks for your letter. I am sure it will help many persons. Could you have relaxed more readily your cure would have come more quickly. Now repeat the questions asked on another occasion, sending stamped, addressed envelope, and I will be glad to answer them.

LOST VICTORY MEDAL.
Chicago, Jan. 22.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I have lost my Victory medal, through no fault of mine. Efforts to recover it have proved unsuccessful. Can I get another one? Will I have to pay for it and where can I get it? Will I have to go through a lot of red tape to get the second one?

L. D.
The war department has ordered a duplicate medal may be issued to men who furnish proper proof of the loss of the original medal. Duplicate medals will be furnished free to men still in the service, but for ex-service men a charge of 45 cents will be made for the medal and 4 cents for each battle clasp.

Write a letter in duplicate, to the Adjutant General, U. S. Army, telling of the loss and efforts to recover the medal, also the place and date, if possible, where the medal was issued. The adjutant general will approve the application and direct you how to apply to the quartermaster department for the second medal.

As a measure of protection to men who are actually entitled to the medal, it is necessary for the war department to adopt a rigid system for issuance of duplicate medals. This award of the government as evidence of your service seems worth making the effort to get.

LOST TO THE LEGION.
Hume, Ill., Jan. 22.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I enlisted in the U. S. N. R. P. in June, 1918. I was never called to active duty and so never wore the uniform. I am still subject to the reserve force regulations and will be until June, 1922. Will you please tell me if I am entitled to membership in the American Legion?

We are sorry to have to tell you that you are not eligible, as you were not called to active duty.

FITZMORRIS DENIES CHARGE BY CROWE'S AID

Prosecutor Says Police Shielded Thieves.

Chief of Police Fitzmorris, last night denied the truth of charges made by Assistant State's Attorney Lloyd Heth to the effect that the police are withholding evidence from the state's attorney's office in the case of three youths now on trial before Judge Hugo Farnham for the robbery of a Hyde Park State bank messenger on Nov. 5 and the theft of $254,000 worth of securities.

The case is the one which caused the arrest of three youths, the men on trial are James and Edward Royle and James Brennan, the latter the son of a policeman. John A. Carroll, president of the bank and of the Cook County Bankers' association, who arrested Edward Royle three days after the robbery and recovered $183,000 worth of the securities, charged some time ago that the police were protecting the defendants.

Chief Made Arrests.

Chief Fitzmorris, who personally arrested the other two men and recovered the balance of the loot, declared everything had been done to clean up the case.

"Any suggestion of a promise of immunity is absurd," he said. "We have arrested all the men, they were identified and all the property recovered. With the bringing of the defendants to trial our responsibility ceases. We are presenting the best evidence we have."

"Some of the events in this matter occurred before my appointment and no complaint has been made to me that there was any laxity on the part of the police. Since I have been chief everything has been shipshape, open and aboveboard."

Carroll Takes Hand.

Carroll, after expressing wrath and indignation at the carelessness with which the police were handling the case at the time, went out and found the three youths hiding in the barn with the stolen loot, the checks taken from Michael Grace, the bank messenger. A suit of clothes, said to belong to Brennan, also was found. Royle is said to have confessed.

At the time Carroll claimed he gave the names of the other defendants to the police, but that instead of arresting them they permitted them to go to their homes, pack up, and leave. The Chicago crime commission interested itself in the case and retained former Assistant State's Attorney John Farnham to aid in the prosecution.

Mr. Carroll also has had a special attorney present at the trial.

The case will be given to the jury.

This is "Movie Day" for the benefit of the 3,500,000 starving children of Europe. When you visit your favorite "movie" theater you will see an added "feature picture," showing what the European relief council is doing to save the lives of famished little ones of a dozen foreign nations. Perhaps you will hear an appeal in person by a volunteer worker from the Chicago committee who has been invited to your theater by the motion picture division of the European Relief council. Your cooperation will make the "Movie Day" the great success it is confidently expected to be. CALDER TO TAX COAL MIDDLEMEN OUT OF BUSINESS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—Taxes on coal dealers as provided in the Calder coal regulation bill have purposely been set high "to drive the coal straight from the mine to the consumer." Senator Calder, Republican, New York, today told the senate committee which is considering his measure.

It is the intention of the bill to "tax out of existence" many unnecessary middlemen, Senator Calder said, adding that it would be shown before "this investigation ceases where coal moving on the rails has been sold three or four times between the mines and the consumer."

The American public last year, Senator Calder said, was "molested out of a billion and a half of dollars by men in the coal trade."

J. M. Armstrong, general manager of mines for the Pittsburgh Coal company, the largest mine operator in the United States, testified that the "pay roll cost" of producing coal, which included all labor charges, had increased 136 per cent since 1916.

STATE ACTS TO HALT 'SLEEPING SICKNESS' WAVE

Chicago Banker Seized with Mysterious Disease

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 25.—State health officials today took steps to prevent spread into down-state of lethargic encephalitis, or "sleeping sickness," from Chicago, where thirty-three cases have been reported. Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, director of the state health department, assigned a field physician to isolate the four cases which have been reported from Alton, Anna, Woodstock, and Oak Park. The Chicago health department is handling the situation in Chicago, Dr. Drake explained.

The so-called sleeping sickness which is now prevalent in Illinois is unlike the African disease of the same name, which is caused by a fly," Dr. Drake said. "As far as we can learn, the local malady is due to infective organism, or a germ, and is not connected with any other disease, as has been believed by the medical profession for a long time.

Symptoms of Disease.

"Symptoms are drowsiness, weakness, drooping of the eyes, weakening of the muscles of the eye, double vision, and an expressionless or mask-like appearance of the face. The patient's temperature usually ranges from 102 to 105."

Dr. Drake explained that victims of lethargic encephalitis sometimes sleep for several weeks at a time. Fatalities usually are high, he added, but if the patient can be aroused from his sleep he has a fair chance of recovering."

BANKER IS VICTIM.

Fred A. Brewer, head of F. A. Brewer & Co., investment bankers, 208 South La Salle street, is one of the latest victims of sleeping sickness to be reported to the city health department. Mr. Brewer, who is 46 years old and lives at 5626 Kenmore avenue, has been suffering from the mysterious disease for nearly two weeks. A week ago he was taken to the Michael Reese hospital, where Dr. P. A. Daly diagnosed the disease as encephalitis lethargica.

"There is every reason to believe that he will recover," Dr. Daly said. "His temperature has dropped from 102 to 101 and his pulse has improved. He continues to sleep most of the time. He would sleep twenty-three hours out of every twenty-four if we would permit it."

Two new cases of sleeping sickness were reported yesterday. They are Hugo Hauger, 55 years old, 5412 East View Park, and Carl Griffin, 21 years old, 2949 South Dearborn street.

SENATE MAKES SPECIFIC MOVE ON DISARMAMENT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—Disarmament advocates scored another point today when the senate, after brief debate, unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Senator Borah, Idaho, calling upon the naval affairs committee to report whether it would be sound policy to suspend naval building for six months. The resolution has a two fold purpose: First, it is designed to show the good faith of America while the proposed negotiations for curtailment of naval building programs are in progress between this nation and Great Britain and Japan. Second, it would permit time for an investigation as to what constitutes a modern navy in the light of the experiences of the world war. A resolution for such an investigation probably will be offered soon.

Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, Republican leader, said he saw no objection to the resolution, but thought the investigation would take some time. The house naval committee hearing of Gen. Pershing on disarmament was postponed today to Friday because of the illness of Chairman Butler of the committee.

MOTHER, ILL, SEEKS GIRL WHO VANISHED ON TRIP TO STORE

Mr. and Mrs. Bartholo Cantoni of 159 West Grand avenue reported to the police that their 17 year old daughter, Stephanie, has been missing since last Saturday. According to the father, Stephanie was sent for a loaf of bread about 5:15 o'clock on Saturday evening. She purchased the bread, brought it as far as the front doorstep and disappeared. Mrs. Cantoni is critically ill and asks that anyone seeing her daughter communicate with The Tribune.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED BY HOYNE FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maclay Hoyne, parents of Maclay Hoyne, former state's attorney, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last night with a reception at their home, 4217 Sheridan road. Mr. Hoyne has been a resident of Chicago for seventy-seven years, coming here by stage coach from his birthplace in Galena, John D. Temple, Mrs. Hoyne's grandfather, and John D. Stanton, a former judge of the state Supreme court, established the first stage coach line between Chicago and Ottawa, and held the first government contract for transporting mail between these points. Mr. Hoyne's father, Thomas Hoyne, was a mayor of Chicago in 1875. Mr. Hoyne's four grandchildren and his six children were present at the celebration last night. The children, in addition to Maclay, are Mrs. Fred Ingraham of Cleveland, Thomas T. Dr. Archibald L., Miss Mary L. and Eugene M. Hoyne.

COUNCIL BOARD TO ACT NEXT ON ALL-NIGHT CAFES

Ordinance Up to Revenue
Committee Tomorrow.

The suggestion that Chicago be allowed to develop a night life, comparable to New York's but on a more limited scale, will be considered tomorrow afternoon at a special meeting of the revenue committee, called by Chairman A. J. Cermak.

A report from the city law department on the legality of an ordinance limiting the number of cabarets which may remain open until 2:30 a. m. will also be before the committee. Assistant Corporation Counsel William W. Smith, formerly secretary of the west end board, is drawing up the opinion, together with an ordinance.

Several Ways to Limit Number.
It is probable the proposed ordinance will authorize the issuance of "all night" licenses where two-thirds of the buildings within 300 feet of the proposed cabaret site are used for business purposes. If the law department makes a more direct provision that only such licenses be issued would be better.

It has also been suggested that the number may be limited to ten by the mayor, and that the council pass a resolution requesting him to hold the number to that figure. Ald. Cermak said: "If we have power to regulate cabarets, I believe the courts will find we have power to limit their number."

Another Method.
Another suggestion is that a section of the proposed ordinance fixing the cabaret license fees limit the number at "all night" places on a basis of population, as the number of saloons is limited under the old Harkin ordinance.

DANIELS WOULD STUDY WARSHIPS OF AIR AND OF SEA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—The navy general board has been instructed by Secretary Daniels to institute an investigation into the probable design of "the type of ship that will form the main strength of the navy of the world of the future," and particularly into the possibility of aircraft and improved submarines displacing capital surface vessels, it was learned tonight.

The board's orders are to conclude the investigation in time to report early in February.

"Some well known writers are expressing their opinion that the battleship will, at an early date, no longer form the backbone of the fleet, but that ships of the air and ships of the submarine type will be the powerful ships of the future."

"The department desires that this matter be taken under consideration by the general board and analyzed from the different points of view and a report on this general subject be submitted early in February."

EXONERATE SISTER'S HEART.

Femina Frocks

for Personal Selection

AFTER Lent the social calendar will be brimming with gay affairs for which the debutante would do well to make extensive preparations. Her clothes should be in readiness for the many occasions, both formal and informal.

She will find the service of Femina Frocks indispensable at this time, when her every minute is occupied. For only one fitting is required and then it is but a short time until the Frocks is completed.

Miss' Custom Apparel, Ninth Floor.

"White Heather" Writing Paper

"WHITE HEATHER" Writing Paper is already well-known to many of our patrons. It is a pure white paper with a fine linen surface just sufficiently rough to take the ink from any kind of pen. It is delightful to write upon and very refined in appearance.

"White Heather" is wrapped in pound packages (85 sheets), thus eliminating the cost of boxing. One pound of paper with 50 envelopes, $1.25.

Stationery Room, First Floor, North, Wabash.

A Wrap with Many Uses

HOW many times, in the South or California, a smart Cape like this is needed to wear over a light frock, or over a suit for added warmth when motoring.

Of light weight, block plaid, homespun, it is lined with bright-colored satin which gives the gay touch so charming in all the new things. The long scarf ends of the collar are faced with cloth of the color of the lining.

This is but one of many attractive new models of the type with an especial appeal for those whose interest in motor apparel will be augmented by the selection of new cars during the Motor Show.

Women's Coats, Sixth Floor, North, State.

Cotton Voiles

Are Exceptionally Priced

THE remarkable opportunities to save on Cotton Dress Fabrics will encourage the home dressmaker to do more sewing than ever this season. There is no end to the dainty things that clever hands can make from these Voiles. The values, we believe, are unequaled.

Plain White Voile, Yd., 35c

The White Voile is of a sheer beautiful quality, 40 inches wide. Frocks for women and children, blouses, lingerie, tea aprons, and for combining with other materials are a few of the ways it may be used. It is decidedly reduced in price, 35c.

Printed Voile, Yd., 50c

A range of designs and colorings, seldom shown in Printed Voiles of this price, makes these very desirable. There are plenty of stylish patterns from which the woman or miss may select a summer frock, far below the regular price.

Cotton Dress Goods, Second Floor, Middle, State.

Women's Three-Piece Suits Smart and Serviceable

A HANDSOME three-piece suit, such as we are now showing in all the most desirable materials for Spring, is one of the smartest and most serviceable costumes a woman could have. Handsome new models are of fine wools and also of the new crepes and other silk fabrics for southern wear. Many of them show embroidery. Others are combined with novelty materials.

Three Models from Many Attractively Priced at $97.50 and $125

At $125—Suit of navy tricotone has blouse of gray roshanara crepe, piped with blue.
At $97.50—Navy tricotone suit with satin top embroidered with blue and black.
At $125—Unusually effective is suit of black tricotone with blouse of Persian design crepe de Chine. Smart little box coat.
Women's Suits, Sixth Floor, South, State.

Shoes that Set Standards Distinguish Our Semiannual Sale

TAKE EX-CONVICT ON HONEYMOON SWINDLE CHARGE

Nurse He Married Tells of Theft.

The police say they have the original "honeymoon swindler" in tow. They describe him as one of those handsome, fashionably dressed young men, who steal young women's hearts, and then steal the means for keeping them—money.

The story of the arrest of the "honeymoon swindler" involves the story of the wooing of a pretty nurse in Chicago by Phillip F. Greenberg, an ex-convict. She is going to sue Mr. Greenberg for a divorce, and her name will come out later, but now—now she is lamenting the sudden blasting of her love's young dream.

Showed His Bank Book.
"I loved him," she told Detective Sergeant Michael Neary, and Patrick Loftus of the detective bureau. "He showed me a bank book with $100,000 on deposit, and a large house on the north side which he said was his. We married. We lived at hotels, ran up bills and then changed. I found later he was beating the hotels."

The two detectives saw Greenberg standing at Randolph and Dearborn streets yesterday, and approached him and said, "You have been in prison—we can tell by the pallor of your face. How did you get out?"

Paroled to Chicago.
Greenberg pulled out a parole from the Ohio state prison. He had been paroled to Chicago June 29, of last year, by T. C. Jenkins, the warden, after serving eighteen months for forgery.

"We are going to ask Chief Fitzmorris to write the penitentiary and find how it is this man was paroled to Chicago," said the detectives. "He was arrested for forgery, and like many others when he is paroled they send him to a big city."

Wilson Signs, in Ink, His First Message Since Illness

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—Congress received from President Wilson today the first message signed with pen and ink since the president was taken ill a year and a half ago. The message had to do with changes in customs districts. Since his illness and up to this time the president has used an indelible pencil in signing communications to congress.

Another High Official in Ford Company Resigns

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 25.—[Special.]—Another of the high officials of the famous Ford organization today handed in his resignation, and the rumor is that more will follow within a week. Dean S. S. Marquis, head of the Ford sociological department for several years, has asked to be relieved, but it is understood no action has as yet been taken on his request.

He declined to say why he chooses to withdraw.

Acceptance of the resignation would remove virtually the last of the executives who worked with Ford in building up the organization.

SPINACH POISON KILLS 2; CALL ON U. OF I. FOR CURE

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 25.—With two attaches of the Blodgett hospital here dead, three others reported in a critical condition, and a dozen others ill, Dr. C. C. Slemmons, city health officer, today began an investigation of food served to the hospital staff last Saturday.

A cursory analysis, it was announced, indicated that the fatal poison was bacillus botulinum from preserved spinach.

A special serum ordered from the University of Illinois arrived tonight. The dead are Miss Gertrude L. Coyle, a nurse, and John Smith, an orderly.

'Eddie the Immune' Begins Serving Term in Prison

Confident that he will be released within a week, Eddie Jackson, known as "Eddie the Immune," pickpocket de luxe, yesterday took up his duties as a waiter in the house of correction. It was the first day of a year's sentence imposed upon him by Judge Caverly, following his arrest on a charge of "disorderly conduct" in connection with the theft of a pocketbook. While Eddie was learning his new duties as a waiter his attorney, John M. Loneragan, was busy working on the appeal and the home of Harry Fawcett of 2823 West Van Buren street, who prosecuted Eddie, is under police guard following threats by Eddie's pals.

Lives to See the Prescription He Wrote in 1892 the Worlds Most Popular Laxative Remedy

DR. W. B. CALDWELL TODAY
Born Shelbyville, Mo., March 27, 1859
Began the manufacture of his famous prescription in 1892

Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, long past Biblical old age, but hale and hearty—Still sees patients daily—Wonderful achievement of a "country doctor."

WHEN I started to practice medicine, back in 1875, there were no pills or tablets or salt waters for the relief of constipation, and no artificial remedies made from coal tar.

The prescription for constipation that I used early in my practice, and which I put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid remedy, and I have never had reason to change it. I intended it for women, children and elderly people, and these need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

I am gratified to say that under successful management my prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that over eight million bottles were sold by druggists last year proves that it has won the confidence of mothers whose chief interest is the health of their children.

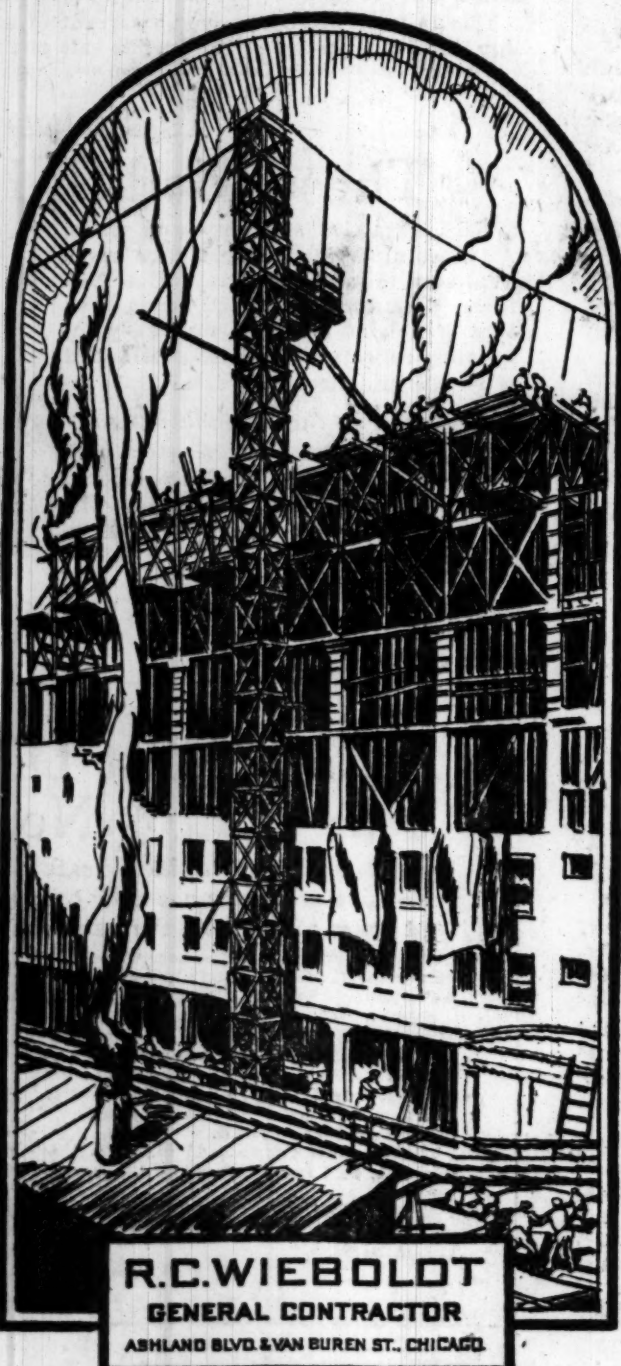

Pharmacopoeia. I consider Syrup Pepsin today in the serious 82nd year of my age, as I did in 1892, the best remedy a family can have in the house for the safe relief of constipation and its accompanying ills, such as headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and I believe if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

A Past with a Message for the Future

Nearly ninety years ago Lockwood, Greene & Co. began to render an engineering service in the industrial field—a pioneer.

Today Lockwood, Greene & Co. is still essentially a service organization; but the service has broadened into an unique combination of engineering and architectural skill plus business experience.

The value of such a service is at once apparent to a client.

It provides the manifold viewpoint so necessary to the complete success of every industrial undertaking—the artistic viewpoint of the architect, the technical viewpoint of the engineer, the commercial viewpoint of the manufacturer, and the financial viewpoint of the business man—each tempered by a progressive experience over a long period of years.

Lockwood, Greene & Co. service is complete. It consists of a preliminary study of your particular problem, both from an architectural and engineering standpoint, sketches and estimates, finished plans, working drawings and specifications.

It considers the arrangement of departments, layout of machinery and the routing of materials.

It goes into every phase of the undertaking including such things as plumbing, heating, fire protection, lighting, ventilation, power, the installation of elevators or conveyors and the working out of the difficulties peculiar to each operation.

Lockwood, Greene service includes the securing of bids and the placing of contracts, the supervision of work during construction, recommendations for improvement in existing plants, special reports or appraisals for any purpose.

Such service, full rounded as it is, can be rendered only by an organization such as this—an organization that knows by actual experience what to do in each case—an organization with confidence in its ability to do, because of its background of successful doing.

That the business should endure for nearly fourscore and ten years and steadily grow, is proof that there is need for the type of service which Lockwood, Greene renders—and that this type of service has been satisfactory to Lockwood, Greene clients.

Further details regarding our service in relation to your business will be furnished by mail or by interview as you request.

NEWS OF MERCHANDISE is vitally important to every woman. It enables her to save money and live better. Chicago women insist on THE TRIBUNE because it has so much exclusive News of Merchandise—advertisements that other papers do not carry.

1921 Will Reward FIGHTERS

RUSH TO TRIBUNE BUREAU FOR AID ON INCOME TAX.

The Tribune income tax bureau continued to do a rushing business from 10 to 12 o'clock yesterday. It was the second day that the blanks 1040A and 1040B (income of $5,000 or less) were at the disposal of those who require them. The public is waiting by the door to get the blanks and filing early to avoid the eleventh hour rush. All day there was a constant stream of puzzled persons seeking information.

March 15 is the final date for filing returns and making first payments. They should be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer resides.

Full directions for filing returns will be found on forms 1040 and 1040A. The new covering schedules is also printed here.

The normal tax is 4 per cent on taxable income up to $4,000 in excess of exemption. The surtax is from 1 to 62 per cent on net incomes of over $5,000.

The status of the taxpayer on the last day of the taxable year determines the amount of his exemptions. If on Dec. 31, 1920, he was married and living with his wife he may claim the $2,000 exemption, although the marriage may have been taken place on Dec. 31.

REPUTED BURGLAR CACHES CASH IN OLD SHOES; GETS A SCARE

Edward Erickson, whose photograph adorns various bulletins sent out by the chiefs of police of Seattle, Denver, and other cities, wandered into Sycamore yesterday and was taken into custody by Sheriff Decker. He was carrying an extra pair of shoes.

"What did you do with those old shoes I was wearing when I came in," he demanded several hours later after a nap in his cell.

"Burned 'em," said the sheriff.

Erickson faintly.

"You poor boob!" exploded the prisoner when he revived. "Burned 'em? O, you poor boob! I had a hundred dollar bill and a cashier's check for $500 in 'em."

Whereupon the sheriff, who hadn't burned the shoes at all, retrieved $600 from the lining of the shoes. Literature in Sheriff Decker's possession states Erickson is a burglar.

EDWARD ERICKSON.

IDENTITY CARD IDEA GETS O. K. OF MOTORISTS

Representatives of six motor and commercial associations who called on Chief of Police Fitzmorris yesterday to protest against the enforcement of the new ordinance requiring motorists to carry identification cards, left the city hall declaring that they are "entirely in sympathy" with the chief's plan to curb automobile stealing.

The delegation, led by O. D. Jennings of the Illinois Automobile club, requested that the enforcement of the ordinance be delayed on the ground that it would be an imposition on suburban motorists and that the necessity of providing photographs and taking time to apply for identification cards will prove a burden to automobile owners.

The motorists suggested that the provisions of the ordinance be made state-wide, and the chief volunteered to take them to the office of Corporation Counsel Erickson, who promised that a bill embodying the chief sections of the ordinance will be drawn up for presentation to the state legislature.

STAR GAZER SEES FLOCK OF STORKS BOUND FOR EARTH

Milwaukee, Jan. 25.—The country will be flooded with twins, triplets, and quadruplets during the next six years, Prof. Charles Kirschhoff, astrologer, predicted today. He said that the conjunction of certain stars with the new moon shows conclusively that the world will be startled by the fecundity of all human races, during the next four years especially.

Prof. Kirschhoff said that the planets Mars and Venus were in conjunction on Jan. 5, a "bad sign," causing a fruitful sign of the zodiac. In addition, he said, the planet Mars passed through Pisces Jan. 12 and came in conjunction with the new moon Jan. 23, showing that during the latter part of this year and for a period of five years thereafter the human race will be astonishingly fruitful. The premises on which these conclusions are founded, he said, were laid down by the ancients.

Prof. Kirschhoff said he some time ago gave up his contracting business and now devotes his entire time to study of the stars in the attic of his home here.

Colby's Sale Is Now Put to the Real Test

Monday and Tuesday
Surpassed All
Opening Sale Records

THERE has been a searchlight playing upon Colby's furniture stocks for the past two days; a kind of searchlight which nothing can eventually escape, and one that can be relied upon to bring out the weakness as well as the strength of all events.

That is the searchlight of the people's vision. They have seen the goods and we have good reason to know that they are satisfied.

BUT it is today that the real test begins, the test of service, because today we begin to send home the goods, and the test of service begins in the home. Only furniture made to withstand the test of service could have made Colby's furniture sales successful.

In furniture, the word service has a wide meaning. It must mean good, lasting qualities, but it must also mean good-looking qualities. It must mean practical usefulness, it must have a fitting element of beauty, and its price must be such as to make it a sound investment.

How much of the furniture of service, of beauty and of economy does your home need?

This is the time, above all other times, to ask yourself that question, and this is the sale, above all other sales, that enables you to answer it.

We list below a few representative values

50% Reductions

You may be afraid of half price merchandise and we hardly blame you, so we want you to visit this exhibit of fine period furniture in a skeptical frame of mind. We are satisfied we will prove to you the price is 'way below any competition.

MAROON QUINTET TAKES OHIO INTO
CAMP BY 32 TO 21

Columbus, O., Jan. 25.—[Special.]—Chicago scored a big lead over Ohio State in the first half of their conference basketball game tonight and the Buckeye rally in the second half failed to head them off, the Maroons winning, 32 to 21.

Birkhoff was the outstanding star of the game, scoring 24 points of his team's total, casing seven buckets and ten foul shots.

Continual fouling on both sides kept the game, thirty-three fouls in all, charged with nineteen. Capt. Birkhoff of Ohio and Vollmer of Chicago were forced out of the game in the second half on personal fouls.

Birkhoff Puts Team in Lead.

Ohio took a lead of four points at the start of the game, and held it for several minutes. Birkhoff then put his team in the lead for the rest of the game by casing a pretty throw from the side lines and three from the foul line.

Ohio's shots were limited by close guarding to long attempts from the middle of the floor, scoring only twice. Birkhoff failed miserably on fouls, missing eight of nineteen chances.

The score of the first half was 23 to 18.

Buckeyes Thrust.

For the first five minutes of the second half Ohio held possession of the ball, throwing a five man guard around the Maroons. The Buckeyes threatened to get back most of the big lead which Ohio held, but the overzealous players threw wild on most of their chances and Chicago finally broke through the defense for nine more points.

The Chicago team played an excellent game, getting much applause from the crowd for its smooth and clever work. Birkhoff played the best game of his career, leading the Maroons to victory this year. Lineup:

THE GUMPS—A QUIET NIGHT AT HOME

In the Wake of the News

HOW I'D LIKE HEAVEN TO BE. In the life that is to be; The pearly gates and the splendor of things— They wouldn't mean heaven to me. But oh, for the things I have wanted and missed, The things I have had and lost; The golden dreams that have passed like a mist. As they drifted my life across. The pearly gates and the streets of gold Too once inspiring would be; But the tender things, to have and to hold, Are what would make Heaven for me.

Woman's Intuition. Dear Wake: You ask Lady Wakers to define "Woman's Intuition." It is that sixth sense which enables us intuitively to know what is right and what is wrong without being able to give a reason for it. I met a man. He is a gentleman in appearance and bearing, yet I know he's not a gentleman at heart. How? Intuition. And later events will always prove me right. Women do have intuition. Carrie.

Dear Wake: "Woman's Intuition" is the hunk. It consists of guessing right five times out of ten and saying "I told you so" ten times out of ten. They get away with it, that's all. Harold.

Now the battle is on. Lady Wakers and Gentleman Wakers.

She's for Boxing. Shall we have a boxing law? Ray Pearson puts the question. And, even if a petcock. I welcome his suggestion.

Both my brothers learned to box when they were tiny "tads." They liked the name of it so well. "Tad" among their college fads. With them it was an exercise. They boxed and boxed for fun. They told me, though, the footwork helped in baggyming the Hun.

No though this law may create "pugs" of no more value than a pup. The good to all would be so great. Why, let 'em go—' and mix it up. Sylvia.

When I Was a Kid I Thought— That everybody fried cakes on Friday. Rod.

You're Both Right. Dear Harvey: To settle a dispute, I say The Wake is printed just beneath The Gumps to assure The Gumps being read, while Dick says The Gumps is printed on the same page with The Wake so The Wake will be read. Who's right? D. H.

This Wake Help! Is Conducted By Harvey Help! T. Woodruff.

So Affable. Sid Smith, creator of The Gumps.

WILLARD COMBING
EAST FOR MAULERS
TO HELP HIM TRAIN

THEY'RE OFF!

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—C. F. Graham, whose company yesterday announced a guarantee of $700,000 for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight if staged in Montreal, declared he would leave tonight for New York to confer with Tex Rickard tomorrow. If Graham and his representative are successful in getting Rickard to come here the contest will be staged at the Mount Royal racetrack.

New York, Jan. 25.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, spent today making preliminary arrangements for his return bout with Jack Dempsey scheduled to be fought here March 17.

Willard, who is accompanied by his manager, Ray Archer, stated that one of the first details to be settled is the renting of the site of his training camp and the engagement of a retinue of sparring partners.

The former title holder expects to go to Boston tomorrow or the next day on private business and upon his return will devote his entire time to training, probably in some quiet, isolated camp.

A tentative list of sparring partners has been compiled and from these four to six names and light heavies will be selected to help condition Willard for his "come back." According to Willard's statements, these men will be picked for their fighting ability and there will be no effort to spare hard work and fighting in the camp.

A special trainer also will be named in all probability to superintend Willard's notes.

NOTES OF CUE ROOMS.

In the second block of their three cushion match at the Recreation room, Alvin Kieckhefer defeated Marcus Catton, 50 to 45, in 75 innings. Each had a high run of 4. Kieckhefer now leads, 100 to 87, and the final block will be played tonight. After the final match Catton will give an exhibition of fancy shots.

In the three cushion elimination tournament for the state championship at Benninger's, Backus defeated Trigg, 50 to 43.

In Benninger's Monroe street room three cushion tournament, Saunders (50) defeated Paul (42), 42 to 40, in 75 innings. Saunders had a high run of 6.

In the only game of the Chicago Billiard league played last night, Jess Jacobs (42) defeated Gene Moran (42), 42 to 45, in 75 innings. Jacobs ran out his string with a run of two after Moran had led all of the way and had only one more point to make. Jacobs had a high run of five, while Moran's high run was three. Tonight, Dr. Harris plays Bert Treddick at McDermott's and Carl Schneider plays Charles Donaherts at Bert's.

BOOTS ABANDONED

Three midwestern debutants and boxing fan will have to abandon for a time their hopes of witnessing a pugilistic classic under the direction of Miss Anne Morgan— that well known N.Y. Tawker who has added to her fame as a Wall street daughter by a Tex Rickardian endorsement into pug-don.

The tentative plan to stage a bout in Chicago, or as near Chicago as the law would permit, for the purpose of aiding in the relief of war torn France, was called off yesterday when the following wire was received from William F. Edwards, chairman of the extension committee of the American committee for devastated France:

"Meeting executive committee called today decided not to continue athletic exhibition benefits at this time."

NONSKID HORSESHOES.

HORSES that are used on paved streets in the cities or on hard roads in the country need some form of nonskid shoes in winter. Blacksmiths have developed many devices to prevent the horse from slipping on icy streets. Various designs of heel and toe calks have been used, and chains have been fitted to the hoof to keep the horse from slipping. To prevent horses slipping on icy streets some blacksmiths are now using a rubber pad.

In criticizing the ordinary shoe used on the heavy workhorse Charles Fawkes, a north side blacksmith, says the calks wear down after the first day or two and the horse is often injured by slipping. But with the rubber heel the foot sticks even on ice and snow.

There are various forms of them being used, but the general principle of them all is about the same. The pad is mounted on a canvas back, which extends under the shoe to hold it in place. Canvas extends over the entire bottom of the foot, which is covered with oakum and tar. This prevents the foot from drying and cracking.

The canvas and rubber pad not only renders the animal's footing more sure, but it protects the foot from being pricked by nails, glass, and other sharp objects.

* TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives are: Lou Tandler, 10; Eddie Walsh, 10; Al Smith, 10; Jack Perry, 10; Johnny Tillman, 10; Joe Dillon, 10; Chuck Ryan, 10; Charles Scott, 10; Lou Tandler, 10; Eddie Walsh, 10; Al Smith, 10; Jack Perry, 10; Johnny Tillman, 10; Joe Dillon, 10; Chuck Ryan, 10; Charles Scott, 10.

BY RAY PEARSON.

It will be east against east in the ring of the National A. C. at Milwaukee tonight. Lou Tandler, the son of a paw lightweight of Philadelphia, and Willie Jackson of New York are expected to provide a real battle. We have the information from the Chicago press that both are fit and anxious to hear the clang of the going which will start them in action over the ten round rope.

There are reasons that justify the belief this should be a scrap well worth watching, and judging by the advance sale of tickets in Chicago a lot of fans see it in this light, too.

Two Special Trains. Two special trains, one on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and another on the electric road, will be run. The first mentioned train will leave at 5:45 o'clock.

Tandler is one eastern battler who always has given satisfaction in Milwaukee, and, for that matter, so has Jackson. Both are aggressive, hard punching mill welders.

Tandler the Favorite. Tandler in the betting yesterday was a big favorite, the figures being 8 to 5 that the awkward fellow from Philly cope the popular verdict.

In their previous battles three were no decision bouts with doubtful results, but in one contest, a decision affair, Tandler was awarded the verdict.

Four Events for Titles at Alverno Derby Feb. 6

Four Western Skating association championship events will be held in connection with the annual derby of the Alverno A. C. at Humboldt park on Feb. 6. Title events to be decided are 220 yards, quarter, half, and mile. Aside from these races there will be contests for class B and C. races and events for boys and girls. Entries close on Friday with the Alverno A. C. 4251 West North avenue.

DEATH RESCUES WAR HERO FROM DREADED ARREST

Death yesterday saved Capt. Anthony Aub, scion of a wealthy New York family, from the thing he feared most—arrest. The overseas captain, who fought gallantly in the war, died at the county hospital of poison he swallowed Jan. 15 when the police went to his home at 4220 Sheridan road to arrest him on charges of embezzlement. Aub left as his last will and testament a detailed list of debts he had contracted and was unable to pay.

His List of Debts.

This list was found on a paper in one of his pockets:

Wanted in Los Angeles.
Aub was caught on information supplied by the police of Los Angeles. He was wanted there for embezzlement of $300.
The police found papers which indicated Aub was at one time president of Thomas B. Wamaker post No. 413 of the American Legion.
New York, Jan. 25.—[Special.]—At the office of the police reserves in police headquarters here records show that Anthony W. Aub joined that organization April 27, 1920. Aub gave his address as 545 West One Hundred and Eleventh street, his age as 38 years, and said he was a sales manager and described himself as a veteran of the Philippine campaign and the boxer rebellion.
He also stated that he had served overseas as an officer in the aviation branch of the United States army during the recent war. He was enrolled in the police reserves with the rank of major.

GRAIN FUTURES CALLED CHICAGO "MONTE CARLO"

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—[Special.]—Legislation to prevent speculative trading in grain futures was urged here today by Clifford Thorne, Chicago, attorney for the American Farm Bureau federation. He appeared before the house committee on agriculture. He suggested, however, that the proposed law be suspended for two years.

Mr. Thorne charged that 99 per cent of dealing in wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade was carried on with no intention of delivering actual grain. "I, a year, he said the buying and selling there is fifty-one times the wheat arriving in Chicago and three times the world's wheat production."
"We are told that the existence of a wide speculative market serves to stabilize prices," Mr. Thorne said. "In other words, it is necessary to conduct a Monte Carlo in the grain industry in order to stabilize prices on grain."

MR. HARDING!
LEND AN EAR TO FEARFUL TAILORS

Your Dress Suit! It May Unsettle World Again.

Consider the merchant tailor—but let him solemnly warn President Warren G. Harding against the dress suit that the national dress suit organization exhibited no longer as his own during its convention here last week.

As a matter of fact, it's the hybrid of elements, according to the merchant tailors' leaders, who opened their session in the Congress hotel yesterday. The sight of it may suffice to send the French and the English legations into convulsions of diplomatical merriment, they protest. It may result in international complications, they said.

"Bavaria" shouted the tailors' leader, "the thing has dinner facings of silk on the lapels and the collar! Impossible! Somebody had better tell Mr. Harding before he quite innocently wears it!"

Bad Form! Foppish!

Bad form is the term buried at the specially designed dress suit by W. R. Quincey of Quincy, Ill., who believes the tailor must be a diplomat above all things. He is backed up by Albert Quincey of Chicago, who launched a scathing attack on "foppishness" in many clothes in his leading address before the convention.

The president elect's special order, which was designed by an Ohio artist, also revealed another line of contention between the two tailoring organizations.

"The designers' indictment of Chicago because they wear dinner coats on many occasions is pure bunk," protested the merchant tailors. "A dinner coat is and always will be entirely correct at informal dinners and dinner dances, even when women are present. The full dress is, of course, essential for formal things. But it's bad at informal functions as pink velvet."

Sociologist and Prophet.

But, getting back to the merchant tailors, Mr. Stanbury searched yesterday for a member of any craft competent to fill his job.

"There's nothing quite so hard as to pass the clothes wearing public all the time," he declared. "Let's take, for example, the stoop shouldered man whose mother comes with him to a suit. Her visit demands dictation in the highest form; his shape demands artistry. One has to be a sociologist and a weather prophet even after the suit is paid for. If the wearer wears a kindly friend who likes it after he leaves the establishment, all well; but if he meets a critic who doesn't, the merchant tailor has to be a marine and repel the attack."

Putting It Over on Lewis.

Among other instances the delegates told of an experience with J. Hamilton Lewis, former "whip" of the United States senate and glass of fashion. The water, they say, ordered a dress suit yesterday, but sent it back with a terse note that he wished a "man's coat, not made for a boy."

Later, they say, he came to Chicago again, and called up the same tailor. When he found his baggage had been sent to him and he received so many compliments that he has it yet. Now, that's just an illustration cited by association officers, Mr. Lewis was not reached to verify the report.

The convention feature today will be a formal dress fashion review staged in formal models—men and women.

Woman, 75, Only 4 Ft. Tall, Goes for a Walk; Missing

Miss Kuni Hoffman, 75 years old and smaller than four feet tall, left her home at 1446 South Loomis street, at 10 o'clock on the afternoon of Jan. 23 and went for a walk. She failed to return and relatives and friends have received no word from her since.

Her son, Archie S. Hoffman, proprietor of a dry goods store at 1033 Archer avenue, appealed to this office to aid him in locating his mother.

MRS. MARY R. A. VILAS, prominent charity worker and member of women's clubs, won a divorce and $15,000 a year alimony in Judge Sabath's court yesterday from Royal C. Vilas, wealthy president of the Pyle National company.

Three witnesses—Mrs. Vilas, the head of a detective agency, and a janitor of an apartment building—told the judge the story of Vilas' love for "another woman."

"After we obtained the evidence, I confronted my husband with it," Mrs. Vilas said. "He admitted an affair and subsequently called over the telephone to say he would never leave the other woman."

Judge Sabath also awarded Mrs. Vilas the custody of her two children and insurance policies on her husband's life aggregating $150,000.

Royal C. Vilas is a son of the late president of the New York Air Brake company and is well known in Chicago club and business circles.

Ten Stars from Theaters Will Lead Grand March

Ten stars selected from dramatic productions now playing in the city will lead the grand march tomorrow night at a ball given by local No. 2 of the International Alliance of Theatrical Employes at the Arena, Broadway and Thordale.

The proceeds from the ball will go to a fund to increase sick and insurance benefits of the union.

LAWRENCE L. BUTLER ON THE JOB.
(Tribune Photo.)

LAWRENCE L. BUTLER conducts a hospital at 26 Quincy street, which receives on an average of 6,000 "patients" a year. He does all the "operating" himself. His "patients" are cameras, ranging from the large movie filming machines to the vest pocket sizes. The treatments last from fifteen minutes to a week.

Butler has been repairing cameras for the last fifteen years. He averages about ten hours a day, six days a week, besides working from three to four nights a week.

"I guess I average mounting about 600 lenses and shutters a year," he said. "We do a lot of work on foreign cameras, mounting focal plane shutters and the like. We do everything there is to be done to a camera except to repair a lens that has been cracked or broken."

TWO HOTELS HIT IN HEALTH CHIEF'S CLEAN AIR FIGHT

Factory Ordered to Close Because of Smoke.

The energy with which Health Commissioner Robertson pushed his clean air program yesterday caused one firm to send its employees home for the day and shut down the heating plants of two hotels, one for a half hour and the other for an hour.

The Illinois street factory of E. J. Brach & Sons, candy manufacturers and persistent violators of the smoke ordinance, according to records of the health department, was closed at 10 a. m. yesterday and ordered to remain shut down until repairs to the plant are approved by Deputy Smoke Inspector Chambers. Employees were dismissed for the day.

New Gault Hotel Hit.

After a half hour's hiatus in the feeding of coal to the heating plant at the New Gault hotel, 359 West Madison street, Dr. Robertson gave permission to the management to continue operation on condition that a representative of the smokers of the building would call at the commissioner's office today.

A promise to purchase a supply of smokeless coal won permission for the New Tremont house to continue operation of its heating plant after an hour's delay, during which the temperature in the rooms dropped several degrees, according to inspectors.

Other Buildings Get Orders.

Other firms and buildings whose business was temporarily interrupted for violations of the smoke ordinance were the Brunswick-Balke-Coller company, 419 Rush street; the Poole building, 605 South Clark street; and the Cambridge building, northwest corner of Lake and Wells streets.

Arrival of a load of smokeless coal prevented inspectors from carrying out an order to close down the heating plant of the office building at 277 West Van Buren street. Engineers at the Woman's Temple and the Railway Exchange building were warned that unless an improvement in their stacks is apparent today they will be ordered to cease firing.

Association of Commerce to Hear Sales Tax Debate

A debate on the sales tax, which has been proposed as a substitute for the present excess profits tax, is to be the feature of the Association of Commerce luncheon at the Hotel La Salle this noon. Meyer D. Rothschil, of New York, chairman of the men's national tax committee, will talk in favor of the sales tax plan and James J. Forstall will oppose it.

Attorneys for the Dragon Motors corporation of Chicago, a concern whose application for permission to sell its stock in this state was refused under the "blue sky" law, assert the mandamus action reported in THE TRIBUNE of Jan. 24 was not a "test case," as announced in THE TRIBUNE dispatch, but was a recognition of the validity of the law in that the petitioner sought the mandamus under its provisions.

The headline, "Revised Illinois Blue Sky Law Upheld in Court," was somewhat misleading. On the controversy concerning the value of the assets, the attorney's assertion, appraisal was on the basis of cost of production of the plant less depreciation, not on reproduction at present prices as reported.

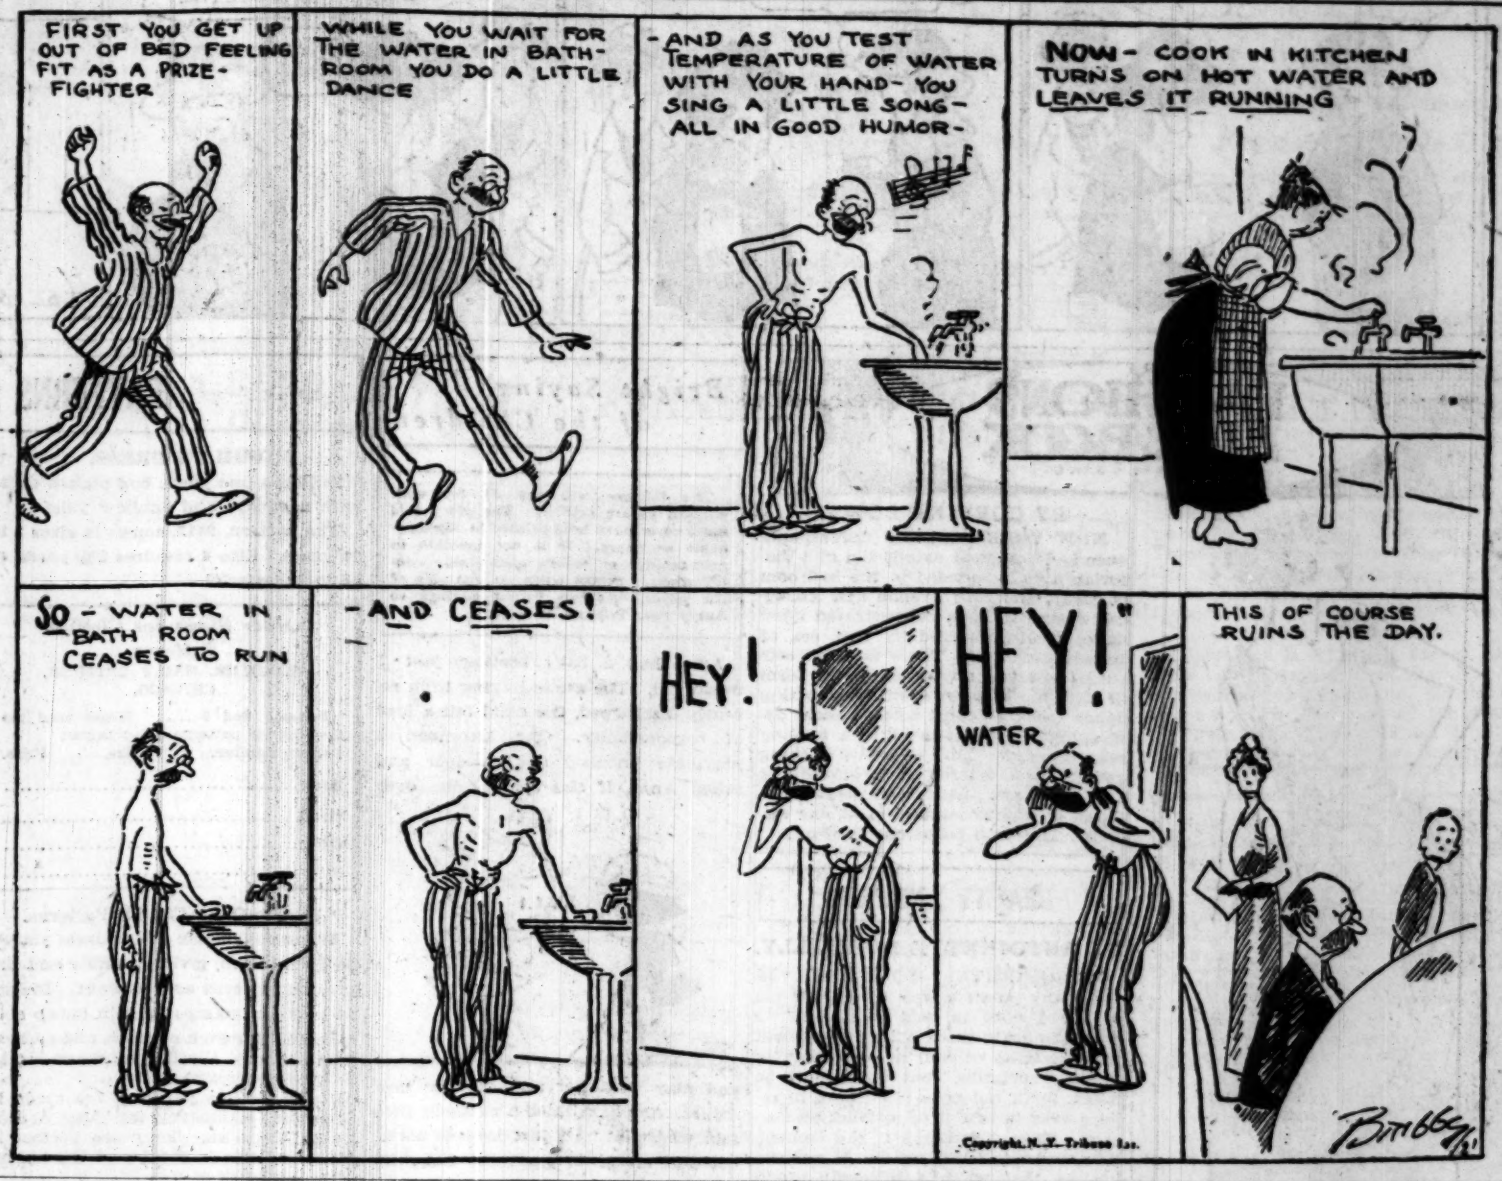

As a result of an announcement published in THE TRIBUNE on Jan. 26 of an Egyptian dance to have been presented at an entertainment at the Precious Blood church, Western avenue and Congress street, by Miss Catherine Duncan, 3502 Congress street, Archbishop Mundelein forbade Miss Duncan to present the dance. Archbishop Mundelein, who never had seen the dance, interpreted THE TRIBUNE article to convey the idea that it was suggestive. According to Miss Duncan's friends and dancing teacher there is no part of the dance that is suggestive or offensive. It was not THE TRIBUNE's intention to convey that impression.

THIS TRIBUNE yesterday printed a story the headlines of which were "Pershing Club's Raid Reveals a Monte Carlo." The club in question is situated at 219-221 East Forty-third street. An official of "the original Pershing club," 1344 West Sixty-ninth street, called to say the story was hurting his organization and asked that this be printed.

RICE FAILS TO MEET MAN DEAD SISTER LOVED

Louis J. Jacques, son of a wealthy sugar broker, waited in the office of his attorney for an hour yesterday. Owen Rice, brother of the 22 year old girl who died in Jacques' arms Sunday evening after she had swallowed poison, was to have been there. It was expected he might modify the demand he made Monday at the coroner's inquest, calling for punishment of Jacques. Rice did not appear.

"I can't account for Rice's failure to meet me," Jacques said last night. "The appointment was made at his suggestion. I had hoped it would result in softening the feeling of bitterness he apparently has for me."

Investigators seeking a motive for the suicide of the girl, Miss Hazel Dewey Rice, other than apparent infatuation for Mr. Jacques, said both the young man appeared eager to aid them in this quest. The report of these investigators is to be made Feb. 3, when the coroner's inquiry is to be resumed. Mr. Jacques yesterday reiterated his regard for the dead girl. He said, however, that he had never been engaged to marry her.

"There was no talk of marriage between us," he said.

STREETER'S BODY WILL BE BROUGHT TO CITY TODAY

Clad in an old fashioned mourning dress, whose folds of yesteryear were trimmed with lace of funeral blackness, "Ma" Streeter went about the business yesterday of arranging the death march of her famous cap'n.

According to the latest plans, formulated by the Lake Michigan Land association—that organization, whose one aim and endeavor is to recover the "stolen" District of Lake Michigan—the body of Cap'n. George Wellington Streeter will be brought to Chicago today, to lie in state in some Presbyterian church. Then it will be removed to Flint, Mich., his birthplace, for burial.

All day long the curious hundreds changed the undertaking rooms of William Huber, in East Chicago, to view the ancient mariner's remains. To them "Ma" Streeter reiterated her determination to carry on the cap'n's fight until the "dreaded" is once more in the hands of its rightful owners.

Public Garage Owners to Aid in Collecting Auto Tax

Every public garage owner in the city is to be asked to act as an assistant city collector of the 1921 vehicle tax. According to Aid. A. J. Cernak, chairman of the revenue committee, the tax will amount to nearly $3,000,000. Blanks are being left in the garages.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.

Do you go to the movies more or less than formerly?

Where Asked.

Otis building.

The Answers.

Frances Ogan, 1358 Miller street, of rice girl—I go oftener than formerly simply because the movies are more artistic and better in every way than they were several years ago. They are portraying life more carefully these days, and the details are better worked out. My favorite is Norma Talmadge, but I admire Viola Dana very much.

L. A. Dumond, 100 South Seventeenth avenue, Maywood, apartment manager—I am not strictly a movie fan, but believe that the pictures shown today are as good or better than in former years. It seems to me that the drawback in the picture game lies in the discomfort found in some of the smaller theaters.

Mayme Gregory, 710 South Spaulding, stenographer—I go to the movies more than formerly because they have developed to the point where I believe they give one more for one's money than any form of amusement. In the old days of the nickel theaters, we went to kill time alone and expected to sit through outlandish hours of poor comedy and false drama. Now the pictures show real scenes. If they are laid in Europe or the Orient an artist makes us see the location. They are generally better.

F. M. Babcock, 715 Michigan avenue, Evanston, Association of Commerce worker—I believe that the quality of the motion picture released has improved considerably during the last three or four years. The pictures of the larger producers are more artistic and cast the characters much more satisfactorily than formerly.

Eleanor Zemar, 1938 South Homan avenue, stenographer—I'd walk forty blocks to see Wallace Reid. Modern pictures have an appeal that even the legitimate stage never possessed, because it is possible to live with the characters and to believe in the stories. They have been able to conceal most of the tricks that go with stage presentations and make the pictures natural.

'NOWORK, NO EAT,' MOTHER'S EDICT TO DAUGHTER, 15

A woman was eating a sandwich in the rear room of a department store yesterday afternoon.

A woman faced little girl we at a chess with hunger in her eyes. The woman laid the sandwich down. The child approached as if to seize it. The woman picked it up again and the girl slunk away—crying.

Mrs. Marvin McKay, welfare worker for the department of constabulary, then took charge of the child, who is Agnes Ladzikoski, 15, and fed her. She hadn't tasted food in nearly twenty-four hours. Yes, she had a home. Her folks lived in the rear of 1523 West Eighteenth place. But she couldn't go there; they didn't want her unless she had a job—and she couldn't get a job because the board of education had revoked her work certificate.

Mrs. McKay went to see the mother. "Yes," Mrs. Ladzikoski admitted. "She's mine. If she doesn't work she can't eat here. I educated two girls and then they ran away. Agnes—she'll work."

"But if we get her some clothes won't you let her go to school until she can get a certificate that will allow her to work?" asked Mrs. McKay. "She has to go to school under the law and you can't let her starve."

"No work, no eat."

The mother will explain her parental philosophy to Judge Arnold today.

WILSON WILL NEVER WRITTEN, COURT IS TOLD

A stormy session in the Kane county Probate court yesterday revealed the fact that the late John Wilson, wealthy citizen of Geneva, never made a written will. It developed during the testimony that the will which Attorney Leonard Mead of Geneva accused Charles Pope, wealthy Chicago sugar manufacturer, of having taken, was merely a notation of an "oral will" said to have been made by Wilson on his death bed.

It is this oral will which Mrs. Edwin Corey DeLong of Washington, D. C., is attempting to have admitted to probate. According to her and her attorney, Mead, this instrument divides the $60,000 estate share and share alike between her and Miss Dorothy Wilson, Chicago girl and kinswoman of Pope.

WABASH "Y" IS GUIDE, FRIEND, TO CHICAGO NEGRO

Whites Profit by Work of Rosenwald Branch.

BY EYE WITNESS.

One way to solve the Negro problem seems to be to mind one's own business and to go on. But the Wabash Avenue Y. M. C. A. (colored), and that is the message imparted by the institution's just finished survey of the immense amount of work it has done during the last year.

This system beats propaganda and agitation. To work intensively within their own circle, instead of splintering around outside their circle with propaganda, as to the Negro and his rights, is the surest way to reaching the minds of the colored men who are guiding and doing the work that is centralized at the big brick plant at 3763 Wabash avenue.

Too Easy for Propaganda.

That institution has not time for propaganda about the Negro's rights. It is too busy getting the Negro ready properly to use and enjoy his rights. Its work is founded on the idea that when it comes to racial salvation the Negro has got to save himself—and can.

Its methods are extraordinarily concrete. It has its vitals always out—not looking for trouble, but seeking to assuage trouble. When it hears that many white persons using the elevated trains are vigorously objecting to the presence in the cars of throngs of Negro workmen, it sends out a delegation to the stock yards to do not make that objection a cause for a declaration about rights and a possible source of a race riot.

The Y's go among the workmen and suggest to them that, as the nature of their work necessarily taints their clothes and shoes with evil odors, they ought to have a change of clean clothes—white and black—clean themselves as carefully as they can before leaving the yards, or, if possible, concentrate themselves in one car of each train.

Work Directed from "Y."

The work that is centralized at and radiates from the Wabash avenue plant is wonderful. Without being afflicted with the blight of mediocrity, it still touches about every problem of personal conduct, of finding lodgings, of hygiene and sanitation, of wage earning, of ventilation, of cultural life, of the newcomer trying to find himself amid a strange environment, and of athletics and amusement, that can confront a race which has a multitude of problems and is now crowding upon it.

Julius Rosenwald's Idea.

The work of headquarters has its cheery and its cultural sides. Its various side clubs, largely recruited from industrial plants, sang in twenty of the largest Chicago churches last year, and in half a dozen neighboring cities. Their auditors in 1920 totaled 4,000 and the ideal of the singers is "to keep alive in the hearts of the American people the love of the folk songs of the colored race."

Seven large "Efficiency clubs" composed of negro workers at Armour's, the International Harvester works, Sears-Robuck's, and so on, have been founded by the Wabash avenue center and are functioning admirably.

The Wabash avenue building itself is 100 per cent efficient. It is always busy, but it is always a home. The attendance there last year was nearly 125,000 men and nearly 50,000 boys. Always present—and patient—to comfort, advise, and guide is George R. Arthur, executive secretary of the institution, and a kind of major domo of the establishment.

And he says Julius Rosenwald never spent any better dollars than the ones that made possible this great agency for the colored man's happiness and betterment and self-help.

MISS PARDRIDGE TELLS OF WEDDING TO LESTER COHEN

Priscilla Partridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Partridge, was located last night in New York, where she is in the cast of "Deburau" at the Belasco under the stage name of Eden Gray. She said she was married to Lester Cohen, former Chicago newspaper man and son of Dr. and Mrs. Hyman Cohen of 1300 South Lawndale avenue.

They obtained their marriage license Jan. 2 in New York City, records disclosed. Mr. Cohen gave his age as 21 and the bride gave hers as 19. She used the name of Eden Gray in the license. His address was given as 35 West Seventy-fourth street and hers as 10 West Seventy-second street.

Mrs. Cohen's father was found yesterday in southern California. He said: "Further than the statement that I understand my daughter married a person in New York I have nothing to say."

Griffin to Get Freedom on Bail for $15,000

J. Ellsworth Griffin is to be released today on $15,000 bail. Judge Hugo Farn, before whom Griffin is to be arraigned tomorrow for the killing of William C. Bryant, yesterday said there were some queer aspects to the case, and raised the bond to $25,000; then, with the consent of the state's attorney, reduced it to $15,000.

GRAINS SLUMP; MARKET IS WEAK; RALLY AT CLOSE

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Reversal of the action of Monday was on in the grain markets yesterday, with highest prices early and lowest later. The close was on a fair rally from the lowest, showing losses of 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 on wheat, 1 to 1 1/2 on corn, 1/2 to 3/4 on oats, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 on rye, and 1/2 on barley.

Selling pressure was more aggressive and buying decidedly weak most of the time. In the last hour support came mainly from profit taking on early sales and buying against bids.

Wheat News Mixed.
Wheat news was mixed, with a great deal that was against maintenance of values on the level of the previous day. It counted against the price, which declined 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 from the close of the previous day, with March down to 11 1/2 and May to 11 1/4.

New York reported local operators reselling wheat there. Argentina was said to be offering wheat at 80 to 85 cents per bushel, but nothing was heard about any sales being made.

Primary arrivals for the two days were 2,384,000 bu. against 2,064,000 bu. last year, and Winnipeg had 1,341 cars for the same time, against 438 last year.

Export buying was of good volume, with around 1,250,000 bu. sold. It is not expected the British will be in the market until March.

Corn lacked the good support from the large buyers of the previous day and declined 2 to 3 from the high point of Monday. May was down to 6 1/2 and closed at 6 1/4.

Many local operators who bought the previous day were reselling. The market felt the effect of the heavy hedging sales of Monday and again for the day. Country offerings were lighter.

Oats were on tap all day and broke 5 1/4 to 5 1/2 from the close of Monday. Selling was scattered and buying mainly to take orders.

Rye had a heavy tone and met sales by wheat spreaders. Export business was light and buying poor, with few resting orders visible. Rye was sold with cash prices unchanged at 10 lower.

Packers Sell Lard and Pork.
Packers were sellers of lard and pork and buying was limited. Prices declined and closed with pork 46 1/2 to 47 1/2, lard 17 1/2 to 18 1/2, and short ribs 15 1/2 to 16 1/2 for the day. Prices follow:

G. S. CAMPBELL, Vice-President
AUDITORS' CERTIFICATE

We have examined the books and accounts of The Bank of Nova Scotia at its Chief Office and such branches as were furnished with certificates by the Branches, and we are satisfied that the statement of Liabilities and Assets as at December 31st, 1956 is in accordance therewith.

The Bank's premises and real estate at its head office and branches are owned by the Bank or leased from third parties. In the latter case the lease agreements have been entered into prior to November 31st, 1928, and in addition the Bank has no outstanding obligations in respect thereof.

In our opinion, when we view the cash at the Chief Office and verified the securities and found them to be in agreement with the books, We have obtained all information which was available to us and we are satisfied that the financial statements are true and fair.

Our opinion, based upon the review of the Bank's accounts and the examination of the above mentioned records and Assets at the Chief Office, is subject to the fact that it is difficult to obtain a true and correct view of the state of the Bank's affairs existing at the time of our information after the explanations given to us, and,

S. B. BRIDGES, C.A.,
D. McK. McLEOD, C.A., Auditors, of the firm of Price, Waterhouse & Co.

Shipping orders absorbed a third of the 41,000 hogs received yesterday, but later purchased freely, resulting in a strong finish to the trade.

Chicago's top at $10.15 stood 25c higher, with the general average at $9.40, the widest spread since last October.

Comparatively small receipts and better conditions in the beef trade added to the cattle market, resulting in an upward movement in values.

Beef steers ranged from $10.00 to $10.50, with the general average at $10.25, the widest spread since last October.

Bargains in Bonds
Investors now have their choice of the great variety of bond bargains in the history of American finance.

These bargains are to be found among all types of security issues—railroad, industrial, public utility and government issues.

Each week we are pointing out these bargains to our clients, and in our four Rating Books we supply investment ratings for every bond issue, whether good, bad or indifferent.

Let us send you information and samples of our work. Write for circular No. 7.
